M'Elroy Names Boss For Nation's Space Program

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy Friday speeded up formation of the government's new outer space agency by naming Roy W. Johnston, a General Electric Co. executive and electronics expert, to head it.

Stepping into a raging Pentagon controversy, McElroy also said that—as of now—he felt the Air Force should operate the space ships and manned satellites of the future. But he emphasized his opinion was subject to change.

The defense secretary further indicated that he favored letting present government agencies handle individual space programs once they reach an advanced stage. He appeared to be opposed to establishment of a new civilian agency.

Johnston, selected to head the new "Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA)" is a 52-year-old General Electric vice president. He has been in charge of the company's electronics production since 1951.

Full Time Job April 1

He will spend two or three days a week on his new assignment until April 1 when he will go to work full time. But McElroy said no projects would be held up pending Johnston's arrival because space programs are a "very live subject right now."

McElroy told a news conference that under compromise legislation passed by Congress Thursday the Defense Department was charged with handling military space programs "indefinitely."

He said non-military programs would be turned over to any "planning agency" established after Congress decides whether such programs should be under military or civilian control. The Senate set up a special committee to study the problem.

McElroy was asked whether the Army, Navy or Air Force would operate military space ships and satellites once they are developed by the new space agency and are ready for assignment to an individual service.

At first, he replied that he expected the job would "naturally remain with the Air Force as its responsibility." Later he elaborated, saying: "In my judgment, the operation of manned flight vehicles seems very naturally to fall within the scope of Air Force responsibility."

But he added: "we may change that." The Army has considered itself a big contender for the space role since it launched this country's first earth satellite, the 30.8 pound Explorer, on Jan. 31.

Rocket To Moon May Come Soon, Hagen Asserts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Congress has been told it may be time in about a year to try to fire a rocket to the moon.

The estimate came from Dr. John P. Hagen, head of the Vanguard satellite project. Testimony he gave the House Armed Services Committee Monday has been made public in censored form.

Testimony left in the record indicated that Hagen thinks existing rocket engines could be used for such a shot. He said an effort to send instruments to the moon, without interfering with the drive to perfect intermediate-range missile weapons, might be made when either the Thor or the Juniper gets to a production phase, where they begin to be a backlog of missiles.

Hagen added, "I believe it is true that these vehicles are supposed to be available in quantity toward the end of this calendar year."

In testimony prepared for the committee, Secretary of the Air Force Douglas also said rocket engines already in existence apparently have the potential, if used together, to carry a vehicle beyond the moon.

La. Bank Assets Climb $40 Million

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 7 (UP)—Louisiana banks increased their assets almost 40 million dollars in 1957, state banking commissioner J. W. Jeansonne reported today, rallying in the last two months after a decline.

Jeansonne listed total resources of the 141 state banks, savings banks and trust companies last Dec. 31 at $1,051,927,291, compared to $1,012,163,488 for 1956.

However, last Oct. 11 the 141 banks reported resources totaling only $922,120,202 before climbing back over the billion mark in December.

Giant Atlas Explodes In Latest Test

Air Force Says ICBM Destroyed By Own Devices

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (UP)—The fifth intercontinental Air Force Atlas to be launched exploded in the sky Friday after soaring beautifully from the nation's ballistic missile test center.

The flight ended in a puff of smoke that was not visible to reporters clustered near the base but plainly visible from a vantage point six miles away.

The deceptive smoothness of the 100-ton rocket's blast into the sky touched off reports that the launching was entirely successful. The Air Force itself did not mention the explosion in its first announcement.

But after the missile slipped through a cloud that hid it from observers more directly below it, the Atlas disintegrated in a huge puff of smoke.

The Air Force announced the Atlas "destroyed itself shortly after completion of the powered phase of its flight." This announcement did not disclose whether the Atlas was detonated from the ground.

Safety officers on several occasions have deliberately detonated missiles from the ground because (Continued On Page Two)

Solons Rush Funds To Aid Unemployed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House and Senate Appropriations committees rushed Friday to pump an extra $43,400,000 into the government's unemployment compensation program to meet rising claims from jobless workers.

As more and more lawmakers expressed alarm at the state of the current business slump, the House committee put its stamp of approval on the emergency money bill and sent it to the floor for action Monday.

In a rare parallel action, the Senate committee authorized Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) to bring up the measure on the Senate floor as soon as it has been passed by the House.

Replenishment

The extra money was designed to replenish nearly exhausted federal funds for helping to pay emergency grants to the jobless, whose ranks have been swelled by the business slump.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell has said he expects unemployment to hit 4,500,000 in the next couple of months and then start declining. The number of persons drawing unemployment benefits stood at 2,779,000 last month and is expected to rise to 2,900,000 this month.

Meanwhile, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson echoed President Eisenhower's opinion that the current recession will not last long. The President has said he expects a business pick-up sometime around July or August.

Anderson conceded that business may get worse in some industries before it gets better. But he assured the joint Congressional Economic Committee that the administration will conduct a "month to month" survey of the economy to determine if any emergency government action is necessary.

He said that he eventually may have to recommend a tax cut to stimulate business activity but that "the present condition of the economy does not warrant such action now."

Negro Admits Slaying Six White Persons

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 7 (UP)—State police said today a young Negro told them he murdered six white persons in recent years, including a woman for whose death he was arrested Sunday night in Virginia's Caroline County. Authorities said five of the deaths appeared to check out.

Capt. Rodney H. Holland said the 25-year-old Jeremiah McCray were committed during the past several years in Alabama, Georgia, Ohio and Virginia.

McCray, described by police as a drifter from Alabama, was being held in Bowling Green, Va., along with another Negro, on charges of murder in the bludgeoning slaying of a woman near Lady-smith Sunday night. Mrs. Jeanette M. Griffin, 49-year-old widow, was beaten to death, apparently with sticks of firewood.

Confirms Details

Lt. R. E. Little Jr. of the Atlanta detective division confirmed details of a July 7 incident that McCray called a double murder, state police said, but Little added that one is still alive. She is a 79-year-old woman.

Holland said McCray began to tell details of the earlier murders after taking a lie detector test (Continued On Page Two)

Bitter Cold Wave Sweeps Across U. S.

By UNITED PRESS

A massive sub-zero cold wave spread across the Midwest into the East and South Friday and forecasters said no warmup is in sight.

In Minnesota and the Dakotas the temperature was expected to go to 25 degrees below zero and weathermen said it was the first "real" cold wave of the season. The prediction was for below zero readings through Illinois and Nebraska. Cold wave warnings went out through Ohio and Tennessee and a hard freeze was expected to stretch through Dixie all the way to Florida.

The warning was a bitter blow to Florida farmers, just recovering from the third devastating cold wave of the winter. Freezing temperatures were expected throughout the state's northern two thirds, but weather experts hoped the cold would not be as bad as the freeze which hit the state earlier this week.

A United Press count showed the cold wave was blamed for at least 12 deaths since it moved across the Canadian border into the Midlands Thursday.

Deaths by exposure killed men in South Dakota and Tennessee. There were eight weather deaths in Texas — four on ice — caused traffic smashups and four members of one family who burned to death when kerosene was dumped into a wood stove to keep them warm. Near Gardiner, Maine, a space — heater fire killed two children.

In Chicago, the 10-degree cold trapped a diver in a battle with death 84 feet under the ground.

City driver Charles Rinck, 36, went into a water tunnel on Chicago's South Side to prepare for work to be done next week. After 13 minutes, he discovered that frost was blocking his air supply.

Benson Raises Cotton Support Price Levels

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today announced an increase in the cotton support price, but it was short of what the markets, industry leaders and cotton-state Congress members generally had expected.

The 1958 crop will be supported at a base rate of not less than 30.75 cents a pound compared with 28.81 cents for the 1957 crop. The new rate reflects 81 per cent of the parity price compared with 78 per cent for last year's crop.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The increase was made under an escalator clause of the flexible price support law requiring that the rate be raised automatically as surpluses decline. Supplies dropped considerably last year because of large exports and a short 1957 crop.

There had been widespread speculation that the supply situation would require a 1958 support rate of at least 84 per cent of parity under the escalator provision. This would have been nearly 33 cents a pound.

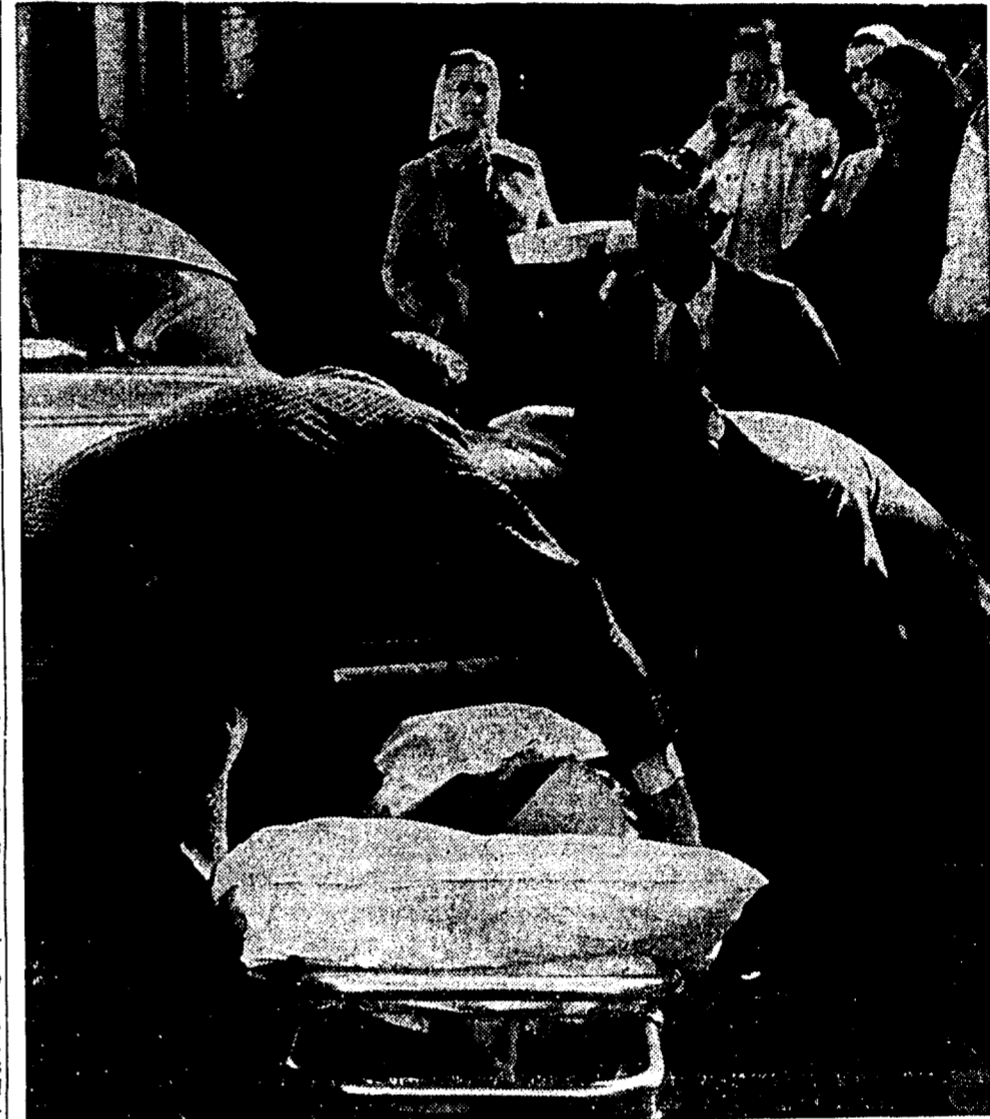

In arriving at his support level, Benson used what industry leaders considered a conservative forecast of exports for the 1958 marketing year and a somewhat optimistic forecast of production. Under the escalator clause, the (Continued On Page Two)

Clear Skies, Cold Expected In Area

Clear skies and cold temperatures are forecast for the Monroe area today, with partly cloudy skies and warmer weather in view for tomorrow.

Pilot Describes Munich Disaster

MUNICH, Germany (UP)—The pilot of a British airliner that crashed here Thursday killing 21 persons said Friday he attempted to take off in a blinding snow storm with the windows so completely covered by ice "we could not see." He said he previously made two false starts because he did not like the "sound" of the engines.

Munich Public Prosecutor Siegmund Berr filed charges against "a person or persons unknown" in connection with the crash, which killed seven top British soccer players. The charges opened the way for a full investigation.

Capt. James Thain described the take-off attempt at a press conference.

"We could not see anything because the windows of our plane were completely covered with ice," he said.

Saw Glow

He said he saw an "orange glow" on the left side of the twin-engine Elizabethan airliner after the first impact.

"It appeared to be a fire, but I could not identify the flames because the windows were so blocked with ice," he said.

Thain said he twice took his British European Airways plane to the runway, but turned back because of the "sound" of the engines.

Whipple Shut Off From Own Papers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 7 (UP)—How a distinguished scientist found himself blindfolded by red tape has been disclosed by his wife in an address to an organization of women associated with Harvard University, the Harvard Dames.

Mrs. Fred L. Whipple, wife of the director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical observatory, related that in 1946, her husband — a noted Harvard University astronomer — wrote a paper for an unidentified nonprofit research organization in California.

Some time after he had turned in the paper, he found that he needed some of the data contained in the article. Mrs. Whipple said the organization replied:

"This has been classified top secret. Since you do not have the proper security rating, we cannot permit you to see it."

Army Official Franklin Orth Speaker Here

Franklin L. Orth, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, and an array of state officials will appear at the annual conference of the Louisiana National Guard here today.

Orth will be guest speaker at the meet which is to be held at the Francis Hotel. Major General Raymond F. Huff, state adjutant general and the highest-ranking officer to be present, will also address the group and said Gov. Earl K. Long may be present to speak to the officers.

Lt. Col. Edward E. Pauley, president of the state group and commanding officer of the third battalion, 156th Infantry, in Lake Charles, will head up meetings and preside over business sessions of the organization.

The first session begins this afternoon at 1 p.m.

Meetings Lt. Col. Walter H. Johnson of Monroe, recently assigned as special staff officer to 30th division headquarters, said meetings of the conference are scheduled through this morning.

Many distinguished guests and officers from all over the state will be present for the meetings. (Continued On Page Two)

WOULD BE 'CHICKEN'

Boy, 14, Tells Why He Helped Rob Bank

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 7 (UP)—A 14-year-old boy, clapping his hands, said today he helped rob a Waterbury bank of $27,000 because he was afraid his teen-age accomplices would call him "chicken."

The boy, John J. Sullivan, told U.S. Commissioner Benedict M. Holden he wanted to leave the three other boys before they stuck up the East End branch of the Colonial Trust Co. in Waterbury yesterday.

But, he said, "I was afraid they'd call me 'chicken.'"

Young Sullivan came to court smoking a cigarette and wearing a black leather jacket and gray slacks. His accomplices were still at large. He was arraigned on a federal armed bank robbery charge on the basis of statements police said he had given, admitting he stood by the door of the bank holding his father's shotgun. His mother, Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan, told the commissioner she had objected to his running with older boys but he had retorted: "Ma, you don't have to know their pedigree."

Sullivan was placed under $20,000 bond and taken to the Juvenile Home in New Haven in lieu of bond. (Continued On Page Two)

Crackdown Aims To Cut Outbreaks

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—New York City's schools today suspended 554 elementary, junior high and vocational high pupils as chronic trouble makers.

The figures do not include suspensions in regular high schools, where it was reported as many as 100 more students are ticketed for suspension.

The mass suspensions came in the wake of a new ultimatum to sweep the school system clean of intractable delinquents.

Both boys and girls were included in the ousters.

The largest exodus was from Brooklyn, area of many of the recent school rapes, stabbings and disorders that spurred the new disciplinary measures.

Brooklyn Hit Hard There, 339 pupils were suspended. In other boroughs, the totals were: Manhattan, 113; Bronx, 51; Queens, 36, and Staten Island, 5.

School Supt. William Jansen said the number removed was lower than the one per cent of pupils estimated previously to be the main malefactors. The city's vast school system has nearly one million pupils. The announcement of the expulsions gave no numerical breakdown by race or sex.

Prior to today, there had been only 219 students under suspension.

Jansen had broadcast the orders for suspending misbehaving students over a special closed-circuit school radio to the city's 900 school principals.

Includes Others

He made it clear that not only students charged with crimes, but also habitual troublemakers should be expelled.

This represented a stiffer approach than was indicated when the Board of Education authorized the new move yesterday.

Jansen, in his detailed instructions to principals, said, "Any student with a record of serious misbehavior who continues misbehaving may also be suspended."

The action brought into immediate and sharp focus the problem of what to do with the ousted pupils.

Mayor Robert Wagner said he was conferring with other city officials about finding some "temporary facilities" that could be (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today announced an increase in the cotton support rate, but it was short of what the markets, industry leaders and cotton-state Congress members generally had expected.

Pilot Describes Munich Disaster

MUNICH, Germany (UP)—The pilot of a British airliner that crashed here Thursday killing 21 persons said Friday he attempted to take off in a blinding snow storm with the windows so completely covered by ice "we could not see." He said he previously made two false starts because he did not like the "sound" of the engines.

Munich Public Prosecutor Siegmund Berr filed charges against "a person or persons unknown" in connection with the crash, which killed seven top British soccer players. The charges opened the way for a full investigation.

Capt. James Thain described the take-off attempt at a press conference.

"We could not see anything because the windows of our plane were completely covered with ice," he said.

Saw Glow

He said he saw an "orange glow" on the left side of the twin-engine Elizabethan airliner after the first impact.

"It appeared to be a fire, but I could not identify the flames because the windows were so blocked with ice," he said.

Thain said he twice took his British European Airways plane to the runway, but turned back because of the "sound" of the engines.

"It was nothing particularly. I (Continued On Page Two)

Whipple Shut Off From Own Papers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 7 (UP)—How a distinguished scientist found himself blindfolded by red tape has been disclosed by his wife in an address to an organization of women associated with Harvard University, the Harvard Dames.

Mrs. Fred L. Whipple, wife of the director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical observatory, related that in 1946, her husband — a noted Harvard University astronomer — wrote a paper for an unidentified nonprofit research organization in California.

Some time after he had turned in the paper, he found that he needed some of the data contained in the article. Mrs. Whipple said the organization replied:

"This has been classified top secret. Since you do not have the proper security rating, we cannot permit you to see it."

Fugitive Dad Faces Toughest Decision Soon

WASHINGTON (UP)—A grim decision faced a fugitive father Friday.

Robert Backover, 28, is wanted by police on grand larceny charges. He also is wanted by his 6-year-old daughter, who is dying of leukemia.

Backover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Backover, told the story to the United Press.

Their son left for his job in a Hyattsville, Md., bowling alley two weeks before Christmas. He told his wife: "I'll see you tonight." That was the last time his family saw him.

But his disappearance was more than a missing persons case to (Continued On Page Two)

Boy, 14, Tells Why He Helped Rob Bank

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 7 (UP)—A 14-year-old boy, claspings his mother's hand, said today he helped rob a Waterbury bank of $27,000 because he was afraid his teen-age accomplices would call him "chicken."

The boy, John J. Sullivan, told U.S. Commissioner Benedict M. Holden he wanted to leave the three other boys before they stuck up the East End branch of the Colonial Trust Co. in Waterbury yesterday.

But, he said, "I was afraid they'd call me 'chicken.'" Young Sullivan came to court smoking a cigarette and wearing a black leather jacket and gray slacks. His accomplices were still at large.

Army Official Franklin Orth Speaker Here

Franklin L. Orth, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, and an array of state officials will appear at the annual conference of the Louisiana National Guard here today.

Orth will be guest speaker at the meet which is to be held at the Francis Hotel. Major General Raymond F. Hufft, state adjutant general and the highest-ranking officer to be present, will also address the group and said that Gov. Earl K. Long may be present to speak to the officers.

Lt. Col. Edward E. Pauley, president of the state group and commanding officer of the third battalion, 156th Infantry, in Lake Charles, will head up meetings and preside over business sessions of the organization.

The first session begins this afternoon at 1 p.m.

Meetings

Lt. Col. Walter H. Johnson of Monroe, recently assigned as special staff officer to 39th division headquarters, said meetings of the conference are scheduled through this morning.

Many distinguished guests and officers from all over the state will be present for the meetings.

Crackdown Aims To Cut Outbreaks

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—New York City's schools today suspended 554 elementary, junior high and vocational high pupils as chronic trouble makers.

The figures do not include suspensions in regular high schools, where it was reported as many as 100 more students are ticketed for suspension.

The mass suspensions came in the wake of a new ultimatum to sweep the school system clean of intractable delinquents.

Both boys and girls were included in the ousters.

The largest exodus was from Brooklyn, area of many of the recent school rapes, stabbings and disorders that spurred the new disciplinary measures.

Brooklyn Hit Hard

There, 339 pupils were suspended. In other boroughs, the totals were: Manhattan, 113; Bronx, 51; Queens, 36, and Staten Island, 5.

School Supt. William Jansen said the number removed was lower than the one per cent of pupils estimated previously to be the main malefactors. The city's vast school system has nearly one million pupils. The announcement of the expulsions gave no numerical breakdown by race or sex.

Prior to today, there had been only 219 students under suspension.

Jansen had broadcast the orders for suspending misbehaving students over a special closed-circuit school radio to the city's 900 school principals.

Includes Others

He made it clear that not only students charged with crimes, but also habitual troublemakers should be expelled.

This represented a stiffer approach than was indicated when the Board of Education authorized the new move yesterday.

Jansen, in his detailed instructions to principals, said, "Any student with a record of serious misbehavior who continues misbehaving may also be suspended."

The action brought into immediate and sharp focus the problem of what to do with the ousted pupils.

Mayor Robert Wagner said he was conferring with other city officials about finding some "temporary facilities" that could be (Continued On Page Two)

Ouachita Parish Gas Producer Is Reported Finaled

The local office of the state Department of Conservation has announced a new gas - distillate well in Ouachita Parish.

The well, Sunray Midcontinent Oil's E. O. Brooks No. 1, was brought in on Sec. 15-18N-1E of the Carelton Field extension, was completed Jan. 30, according to Duncan Cook, director of the office here.

The well is in the Vaughan sand with perforations from 9472 to 9483 feet, making 1,500,000 cubic feet daily with eight to 10 barrels 58 gravity distillate per million cubic feet through a 10-64 inch choke. It is estimated the well will have an open flow capacity (Continued On Page Two)

M'Elroy Names Boss For Nation's Space Program

(Continued From First Page) James H. Douglas told the House Armed Services Committee Friday that the Air Force will launch its Titan intercontinental ballistic missile some time this year. He said it was "particularly adaptable" to exploration of space. The 5,000-mile Titan has not been tested so far.

Benson Raises Cotton Support Price Levels

(Continued From First Page) larger the prospective supply and the smaller the prospective export and domestic demand, the lower the support rate may be. The administration has called upon Congress to repeal the escalator provision and to lower the support minimum for cotton—as well as for wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco—from the present 75 per cent to 60 per cent of parity. The maximum is 90 per cent.

Benson has been contending that support rates for these crops must be reduced if farmers are to meet competition and expand their markets and the flow of surpluses into government hands is to be reduced. The secretary forecast exports for the 1958 marketing year at 4,700,000 running bales compared with 5,500,000 indicated for the 1957 year and 7,800,000 for the 1956 marketing year. He forecast 1958 production at 11,850,000 bales compared with 10,825,000 last year. This year's crop will be grown—as was last year's—on about the same acreage under rigid marketing quotas and a soil bank land retirement program.

In announcing the new rate, Benson said it would be increased if the supply outlook at the beginning of the marketing year, Aug. 1 required or if the parity price at that time is higher than now.

If Benson had estimated exports at five million bales and production at 11½ million bales, he would have had to set the support rate at 84 per cent of parity, or nearly 33 cents a pound.

Birthday

James Arthur Wink plans to notch his 92nd birthday at noon today with a quiet celebration at the home of his daughter Mrs. Cleat Lents, 100 S. 1st St., West Monroe.

Mrs. Lents reports her father is quite agile and is in excellent health, but issues no formula for his lengthy life. He boasts nine children, 19 grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Police said young Sullivan, son of a truck driver, told them the four had been "ready to shoot it out" if necessary.

He told of sawing off his father's gun, hiding it under his jacket and catching a bus to join his accomplices and rob the bank.

They had agreed to leave town afterward and split the money four ways. He said he hadn't received any of the money. He was arrested at home a few hours after the robbery.

Authorities were seeking the following on federal bank robbery warrants: Meris Frank Gule, 18; Michael Berardi, 18, and John George Wallace, 19, all of Waterbury.

They were said to be armed and dangerous.

A knife wound had severed her spinal cord. She was beaten about the head.

McCray, 180 pounds and 6 feet 2, had been questioned previously about Mrs. Stevens' death but released.

He told his questioners he had never committed any robberies other than those connected with the murders he told about today.

McCray was arrested on a murder charge in Mrs. Griffin's death, along with Rush Reager, 20, Negro, a woodcutter.

McCray admitted today he raped and killed Mrs. Griffin, police said.

McCray started telling of the trail of slayings in other states. The first, he said, came in the summer of 1956 in Alabama, where he said he and another man used three or four sticks of wood to beat to death an old woman.

McCray said that about July 1 last year he and still another man used a hammer to kill an elderly white woman in a white frame house with a green roof near Columbus, Ohio.

Giant Atlas Explodes In Latest Test

they veered off course. This is what ended the Vanguard's flight from a satellite in its nose last Wednesday night.

Apparently the missile's engines functioned normally because the blowup came after they burned out high in a clear blue sky.

The first Air Force announcement, issued just after the missile's thundering engines hurled it skyward at 1:36.5 p.m. CST, said the test was "routine."

More than an hour later a second announcement said the missile destroyed itself.

This was the fifth test of the 90-foot Atlas, which is made by the Convair Division of the General Dynamics Corp., and the third time some trouble felled it before the flight was completed.

When fired in June and September, the Atlas was destroyed a few thousand feet off its launching pad. Then it flew successfully to a target area some 600 miles away Dec. 17 and again on Jan. 10.

Friday, the 5,500 - mile range Atlas soared a much greater distance than it did on the two earlier ill-fated flights.

The missile, which almost certainly has a place in the nation's plans for putting bigger satellites into orbit and eventually sending rockets to the moon soared beautifully for nearly three minutes.

Barely had he entered on his work when the nation was seized by a frenzy as dictator rule sought to sweep out those in power. Despite some hardships, the Cadwalladers pursued their duties and a fine mission role was carried through successfully.

Girl Scout Week plans are in the making. The week this year includes March 12 and special stress is placed for on that date in 1912 the first troop of girls met in Savannah, Ga. The 64th anniversary finds the organization well on the way toward a membership of four million.

Observance each day of Scout Week will be such as to be all embracing. Sunday will be Church Day; Monday Homemaking Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, Arts and Crafts, and Saturday, Out-of-Doors Day.

Speaker

The Parkview Baptist Church brotherhood meeting Monday night will feature a talk by Rev. E. V. Appling, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Haynesville. He will discuss mission activities in the Far East. A film will be shown in connection with his subject.

A dinner will be served at 6:30 at the church recreation room.

Birthday

James Arthur Wink plans to notch his 92nd birthday at noon today with a quiet celebration at the home of his daughter Mrs. Cleat Lents, 100 S. 1st St., West Monroe.

Mrs. Lents reports her father is quite agile and is in excellent health, but issues no formula for his lengthy life. He boasts nine children, 19 grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Cook said prospects are good that several other wells will be drilled in west Ouachita Parish in the near future.

Giant Atlas Explodes In Latest Test

they veered off course. This is what ended the Vanguard's flight from a satellite in its nose last Wednesday night.

Apparently the missile's engines functioned normally because the blowup came after they burned out high in a clear blue sky.

The first Air Force announcement, issued just after the missile's thundering engines hurled it skyward at 1:36.5 p.m. CST, said the test was "routine."

More than an hour later a second announcement said the missile destroyed itself.

This was the fifth test of the 90-foot Atlas, which is made by the Convair Division of the General Dynamics Corp., and the third time some trouble felled it before the flight was completed.

When fired in June and September, the Atlas was destroyed a few thousand feet off its launching pad. Then it flew successfully to a target area some 600 miles away Dec. 17 and again on Jan. 10.

Friday, the 5,500-mile range Atlas soared a much greater distance than it did on the two earlier ill-fated flights.

The missile, which almost certainly has a place in the nation's plans for putting bigger satellites into orbit and eventually sending rockets to the moon soared beautifully for nearly three minutes.

was just dissatisfied with the sound of the engines. They were giving full power but it was not the right sound."

He said co-pilot Kenneth Rayment was at the controls on the third try. The plane's engines failed to lift the craft off the ground and it crashed. The plane slammed into two houses at the end of the runway and burned.

Frightened

One of the survivors, Harry Clegg, goalkeeper of the championship Manchester United soccer team, said the passengers were frightened by the pilot's decision to make a third attempt to take off.

"The first two false take-offs made us a little nervous but we really became uneasy when we realized that the plane was making a third try. It seemed to bump several times, maybe half a dozen times, on the runway. The whole fuselage shook. Every one felt it was now or never," he said.

"All of a sudden there was a tremendous explosion and there was only darkness around us."

Forestry Gains

Louisiana's forest industry, already booming and growing at a faster rate than similar industries in almost any other state, can increase its stride tremendously and can boost the income of this state to new high levels. This was the consensus of the 215 business and public leaders and of forestry officials who attended the meeting of the Northeast Louisiana Forestry association here Wednesday.

"If we grow the wood, industry will come to Louisiana to use it," C. H. Lewis Jr., of De Ridder, chief forester for the Crosby Chemicals Corporation, told the delegates. "It is our purpose to see that this tree-farming movement continues and is accelerated."

Lewis challenged public officials and businessmen to "keep reforestation rolling in the state." He called for incentive legislation to keep pace with the fast-growing timber industry's needs, adequate forest fire protection and seedlings to meet the demand. He asserted that "a landowner must have the assurance that he will not be penalized for investing his money in a tree farm which will produce no revenue for at least 14 years."

As one of the leading wood-producing states in the nation, Louisiana has an income of more than $2,360,000 a week from this source in the pulp and paper industry alone. This revenue comes in the form of wood purchases, payrolls, forestry expenditures and freight costs.

These facts were recently brought out at a meeting of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation association in Atlanta, Ga. At that meeting the great strides made in Louisiana in forestry products was particularly stressed.

In 25 years, the pulp and paper industry has grown into the most far-reaching economic force in the 12-state southern region. More farms are now producing trees than any other crop and the pulp and paper survey reveals the industry is contributing more than a million dollars daily to the economy of the south.

Pulpwood costs of the eight Louisiana paper mills total $32,970,000 annually. The mills have a total payroll of $56,090,000. On a regional basis, the industry mill payroll amounts to $351,305,800 while pulpwood costs exceed $405,000,000 annually.

One of the most stimulating and encouraging features of forestry-farming is that it is an inexhaustible source of income. Oil and gas offer faster ways to make money, if they are available, but there is only so much gas and so much oil beneath the earth's surface. When these are exhausted they will simply be gone. On the other hand, the tree-growing industry is never-failing. As long as there is land, trees can be produced.

Louisiana forestry officials, public officials, business and industrial leaders and the people as a whole have just cause for being proud of this state's forestry industry. They have good reason for promoting an ever-extending growth of this industry.

Low-Cost Happiness

Some people are willing to pay $40 an hour to lie on a couch and let some other disturbed person ask them questions. This treatment is often effective for the reason that it gives the patient something real to worry about, instead of letting his mind dwell on his imaginary troubles. This way he has to worry about paying the bills—something tangible.

Now an article in a current magazine comes up with the suggestion that it is far more rehabilitating to lie on a couch, or on the sand, where the cost is extremely low and where there is no one to ask embarrassing questions.

The idea is temporary. It sounds good, especially to those who like long vacations and don't think the ones they get are long enough.

In the Mexican village of Ajijic, 33 miles from Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city, the chances for enjoying temporary retirement are good. Here, amid old world atmosphere, life is easy, the tempo is slow and pleasures are simple. Best of all, the price is right. The rate of exchange is 12 and one-half pesos to one dollar.

In this Shangri-La, you can buy oysters for 10 cents a dozen, wild duck for 15 cents a pound and bread for a cent and a half a loaf. You get a cook, a maid and a laundress—all three—for $30 a month. Who can say a cook, a maid and a laundress are not better for your worries than a psychiatrist, or that $30 a month is not a lot cheaper than $40 an hour? This temporary retirement business could be a good thing.

On the other hand, the relaxation theme has been run into the ground. Those most in need of psychiatric treatment are those who do the least of what they are interested in. They are dying of ennui, which is merely boredom induced by too much rest.

The guy who says, "This relaxation is killing me," may be right.

Pentagon Reveals Effects Of Military Pay Proposal

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon has revealed just what the half-billion dollar military pay raise proposed by President Eisenhower would mean in dollars to those who man the nation's defenses. "The pay hike will go into effect July 1, provided Congress approves the plan advanced by Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. McElroy said legislation providing the pay increase was aimed at (1) effecting a fundamental modernization and improvement in the present system of pay and (2) providing additional incentive for selected reserve officers to remain on active duty beyond the period of obligated service to meet the requirements of the military service."

What it amounts to, he said, is a basic change of the military pay system designed to attract and retain the quality of personnel needed in the nation's modern armed forces. "Actual pay increase received by the serviceman will depend on his years of service and rating or rank. According to Secretary McElroy, enlisted personnel and officers would be entitled to either a six per cent increase in their present rate of basic pay or the new proposed rates of basic pay, whichever is higher. If the proposed enlisted basic pay scale is adopted, two new ratings above the chief petty officer, master sergeant rating will be instituted.

pay scale as follows: up to two years' service, $400, $350; two to four years, $410, $360; four to six years, $420, $370; six to eight years, $430, $380; over eight years, $440, $390. Substantial pay increases are provided for the established ratings under the proposed scale, as follows: Master sergeant, chief petty officer, up to two years' service, now $206.30, would be raised to $300; from two to four years' service, now $222.30, would be $310; from four to six, now $230.10, would be $320; from six to eight, now $237.90, would be $330; over eight years, now $253.50, would be $440. Sergeant first class, petty officer first class, up to two years' service, now $175.81, would be $250; from two to four years' service, now $187.20, would be $260; four to six years' service, now $195, would be $270; six to eight years, $214.50, would be $280. Sergeant, petty officer second class, up to two years' service, now $145.24, would be $210; two to four years, now $163.80, would be $220; four to six years, now $183.30, would be $230. Corporal, petty officer third class, up to two years, now $122.30, would be $140; two to four years, now $140.40, would be $180. Private first class, seaman, up to two years, now $99.37, would remain at that figure; from two to four years, now $117, also to be retained. Figures also have been released for the proposed officer basic pay scale. Two top grades would be created with entry salaries of $1,700 and $1,900 per month. The Pentagon has not disclosed which generals and admirals would be placed in those grades. Pay raises for the present top grades were set out as follows: General, lieutenant - general, major - general, vice - admiral, upper half rear admirals, top pay for over 30 years' service now is $1,076.40, would have $1,350 per month as entry pay, plus $50 for active duty pay supplementals. Brigadier general, lower half rear admirals, present top pay for over 30 years' service is $967.20 per month, entry pay would be $1,200 per month, plus $100 supplemental. Colonel, navy captain, present top for 30 years' service is $811.20, would be $950 entry pay, plus $100 supplemental; from two to three years' service, now $592.80, would be $1,005, plus $100 supplemental; from four to five years' service, now $631.80, would be $1,065, plus $100 supplemental. Lieutenant colonel, commander, present maximum, $670.80, entry pay would be $710 plus $50 supplemental; from two to three years' service, now $474.24, would be $750, plus $50 supplemental; four to five years, now $507, would be $795, plus $50; over six years, now $507, would be $840, plus $50. Major, lieutenant - commander, present maximum with 30 years' service is $592.80, entry pay would be $530; from two to three years' service, now $400.14, would be $560; from four to five years, now

And The Bride Wore Red

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Scandal In New York Is Integration Result

The current scandal in New York is over education, the competence of the educational system, the wisdom of so-called modern and progressive ideas and methods. In a broader sense, it is a racial question. It concerns itself with the assimilation of the enormous Puerto Rican population and the integration of the Puerto Ricans and the Negroes in the school system. The politicians have dodged this issue for two decades and now it has blown up in their faces because in a large number of schools, labelled "difficult," there is no discipline; teachers are beaten by pupils; there is theft, robbery, rape and mayhem. Into this complex situation stepped a publicly-conscious grand jury in Brooklyn which came up with the idea that these problems which beset public education throughout the country and are influencing our national social structure, can be solved by stationing a patrolman in each school. To this the Board of Education, a competent body, objected on the sound grounds that it is pedagogically bad for the children to associate the school system with force of this type, that only a comparatively few schools are disorderly (41 out of 850) and that the problem must be solved within the school system itself to be of any value to the children. While this quarrel is being conducted in the newspapers, a high school principal, Dr. George Goldfarb, after visiting the grand jury, commits suicide. Prior to this tragic event, Dr. Goldfarb had informed the Board of Education that a member of the grand jury had threatened him with an indictment. This the foreman of the grand jury denied and his photograph appeared in the newspapers. The Board of Education was therefore constrained to issue a notice, signed by each member, confirming Dr. Goldfarb's statement.

The Brooklyn grand jury is not, of course, maintaining the rigid and sacred secrecy which is characteristic of this ancient Anglo-Saxon institution. President of the Board of Education Charles Silver said in a statement which the entire board endorsed:

"... Unfortunately, this attack is also the latest in a series of sensational public statements made by the grand jury before all of the evidence has been received and contrary to the secrecy that should guard its activities. Such tactics in harassing public officials entrusted with the guidance of youth serve only to undermine public confidence, impair the morale of the teaching staffs and the student body, and disrupt the efficient operation of the educational system. Moreover, the entire inquiry has been conducted in a manner that would completely prevent any possible constructive benefit."

Although such charges are often made against investigative bodies the consensus of public opinion is that it is true of the conduct of the Brooklyn grand jury, which is messing into a situation which will not be readily solved because it is racial and nationalistic and includes many factors which do not readily lend themselves to solution, such as the age of education-resisting young people, who are required to remain at school by law; the racial difference in maturity of children in certain environments; the sex compulsions in mixed groups, particularly among children from broken homes in which sex played an unorthodox role between parents and paramours and in sight of the children.

Such factors cannot be dealt with politically. When a girl is raped on the roof or in the basement of a school, it is not good politics to ask what the girl was doing on the roof or in the basement. The girl must always be regarded as being offended against!

The problem is frightfully complex and although public officials have no right to throw up their hands in despair, it also does not help to add the condiment of personal politics to it.

A grand jury investigation as to why the racial problem in New York is less easily solved than in Little Rock would have to be truthful to be worth while, and the truth can only be that in the struggle for recognition, the Puerto Ricans, who do not regard themselves as Negroes and resent the classification, and the Negroes who are by population growing so rapidly that they are becoming the most important element in New York, are not easily managed in the schools. It will take courage and astute leadership to convey to youngsters that no one can beat his way upward.

And she might like to register for a few special courses at the seminary. But she will be Joe's best mainstay when they are assigned a church, by her efficient Business College training.

Every livewire church needs a monthly magazine, usually mimeographed. Men Often Know More Than Wives

NEW YORK (AP)—Most American husbands know more than their wives. Even bachelors know more than wives.

These truths, long secretly suspected by men themselves, have been more or less scientifically proved by two young producers, Dan Enright and Jack Barry. The pair produce two NBC-TV network quiz shows, "Twenty-One" and "Tic Tac Dough," on which some 1,600 contestants have won $1,200,000 in the last 18 months.

Entrants took a preliminary general information quiz of 100 questions. So, if you want to know what your chances of getting on such a program are, here is your answer: The odds are better than 10-1 against you.

The wedding-odd written examination has led to some disclosures that might interest psychologists as well as educators.

"For one thing," said Enright, "although housewives make up the largest single group to apply as contestants, they do the poor."

"They simply don't have the range of knowledge that men do. Housewives usually can answer less than 60 per cent of the 100 questions."

"Men, on the other hand, get about 70 per cent correct answers—and so do career women. The reason that career women do so well is probably because they have to compete with men in the business world so they have to keep better informed."

But Enright, wary of stirring up the wrath of housewives, readily admitted they had a realm of knowledge all their own—the art of homemaking—which is rarely investigated on quiz shows.

"They simply don't have the time to run their homes and still pick up all the general information their husbands know," he said. "In their free time, they like to escape from their cares. They want relaxation and entertainment, not heavy reading about world affairs."

Women generally, whether housewives or career gals, don't do quite as well as men even if tests show they are of real constant caliber. Enright isn't sure why.

"One psychologist explained it was because women are naturally more averse than men to being challenged and placed in a position where they might publicly fail. But I'm not so sure that's all. After all, as many women risk marriage as do men."

What occupational group does best on quiz shows? Oddly, it isn't teachers, doctors, engineers, scientists or lawyers. "They are all tops in their specialties," said Enright. "But authors and newspapermen seem to have a wider range of information on general topics. They have to. It's the nature of their jobs."

Enright, only 40, has a pretty wide range himself. He began as a radio engineer, switched to programming because he felt his talents were too confined.

He is quite philosophical about the attacks of critics against the quiz shows which have buttered his own bread golden.

"If there is a plethora of any type of program," he said, "it isn't because there is an obnoxious group of network officials and sponsors trying to force their own ideas on the public. It's because the public, as best they can tell, want this type of entertainment."

"We are dealing with the most ephemeral thing in the world—public taste. Anybody who can call his shots right on public taste can write his own check. These things do run in cycles. There will probably always be room for a good quiz show as long as it remains entertaining, but the period in which quiz programs were pre-eminent is past. We're in the Western show cycle now."

Well, how about the next cycle? Will it combine the quiz show and the cowboy opera?

"No," said Enright, smiling. "I don't think most contestants would do very well on horseback."

Food Worry For Elderly Widower

Men Without Cooks An elderly widower writes that he is in a quandary about his diet.

"It is easy for a woman to live alone because she knows how to cook. It is much more difficult for a man who cannot afford to eat at restaurants. I should have roast beef, lamb, veal, pork, and other meats but must resort to cans of this or that, as well as frankfurters and hot dogs. Will you advise us old-timers on a practical way to eat?"

This is a common problem for men who can't cook. But modern science has come to the rescue. There are many frozen foods, including complete dinners that are ready to serve as soon as heated. Fresh vegetables are available in most stores and are easy to prepare.

Any cookbook tells how to make soups and stews. Cereals, eggs, and milk are not difficult to manage. A supplementary pill containing vitamins and minerals such as M-Celtrin can be used on the outside chance that the older is not receiving as much as he should.

If this cannot be tackled, and the man has no desire to remarry, he could apply for admission to a home where he will find good food, companionship, and care.

Apropos of this problem, there is a story in the Christmas issue of Abbott Laboratories' What's New. A volunteer project, called Meals on Wheels, delivers hot and cold meals to a group of aged and ailing oldsters who are living on a small social security allowance.

This plan was started in the United States at the Lighthouse, a settlement house near Philadelphia. It was adapted from the English Women in Green project organized during World War II to help those whose homes were blitzed by the Germans.

Other communities have become interested. Columbus, O., has its volunteer meals on wheels. The state health department of New York is investigating its possibilities such as Dallas, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, and Rochester, Minn.

These lonely old people have benefited physically and emotionally from the service and the burden of the taxpayer has been reduced. One Lighthouse client calls the women who deliver his meals his "platter angels."

Overweight and Pregnancy T. F. writes: Does overweight prevent conception?

Reply No, except when obesity is on a glandular basis. This is not a common cause of overweight.

Infection and Sweating D. R. writes: Are night sweats a part of viral pneumonia?

Reply Yes; they occur with many infections, especially when there is fever.

Skin Toughening D. H. writes: I feel the cold so much I wonder if I could toughen my skin by taking cold and colder baths every day.

Reply It may help. Meanwhile, wear more clothing and ask your physician to test your metabolism, as you may have a thyroid deficiency.

Blood Test Needed D. R. writes: Is there a skin test to diagnose syphilis?

Reply No. Testing the blood is the best method. If the result is positive the spinal fluid is checked to determine whether the nervous system is involved.

This temporary retirement business could be a good thing.

On the other hand, the relaxation theme has been run into the ground. Those most in need of psychiatric treatment are those who do the least of what they are interested in. They are dying of ennui, which is merely boredom induced by too much rest.

The guy who says, "This relaxation is killing me," may be right.

Pentagon Reveals Effects Of Military Pay Proposal

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon has revealed just what the half billion dollar military pay raise proposed by President Eisenhower will mean in dollars to those who man the nation's defenses.

The pay hike will go into effect July 1, provided Congress approves the plan advanced by Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. McElroy said legislation providing the pay increase was aimed at (1) effecting a fundamental modernization and improvement in the present system of pay and (2) providing additional incentive for selected reserve officers to remain on active duty beyond the period of obligated service to meet the requirements of the military services.

What it amounts to, he said, is a basic change of the military pay system designed to attract and retain the quality of personnel needed in the nation's modern armed forces.

Actual pay increase received by the serviceman will depend on his years of service and rating or rank.

According to Secretary McElroy, enlisted personnel and officers would be entitled to either a six per cent increase in their present rate of basic pay or the new proposed rates of basic pay, whichever is higher.

If the proposed enlisted basic pay scale is adopted, two new ratings above the chief petty officer, master sergeant rating will be instituted.

pay scale as follows: up to two years' service, $400, $350; two to four years, $410, $360; four to six years, $420, $370; six to eight years, $430, $380; over eight years, $440, for the higher of the two.

Substantial pay increases are provided for the established ratings under the proposed scale, as follows:

Master sergeant, chief petty officer, up to two years' service, now $206.39, would be raised to $300; from two to four years' service, now $222.30, would be $310; from four to six years, now $230.10, would be $320; from six to eight years, now $237.90, would be $330; over eight years, now $253.50, would be $440.

Sergeant first class, petty officer first class, up to two years' service, now $175.81, would be $250; from two to four years' service, now $187.20, would be $260; four to six years' service, now $195, would be $270; six to eight years, $214.50, would be $280.

Sergeant, petty officer second class, up to two years' service, now $145.24, would be $210; from four to six years, now $163.80, would be $220; from six to eight years, now $183.30, would be $230.

Corporal, petty officer third class, up to two years, now $122.30, would be $140; from four to six years, now $140.40, would be $180.

Private first class, seaman, up to two years, now $99.37, would remain at that figure; from two to four years, now $117, also to be retained.

Figures also have been released for the proposed officer basic pay scale. Two top grades would be created with entry salaries of $1,700 and $1,500 per month. The Pentagon has not disclosed which generals and admirals would be placed in those grades.

Pay raises for the present top grades were set out as follows: General, lieutenant - general, major - general, vice - admiral, upper half rear admirals, top pay for over 30 years' service now $1,076.40, would have $1,350 per month as entry pay, plus $50 for active duty pay supplements.

Brigadier general, lower half rear admirals, present top pay for over 30 years' service is $967.20 per month, entry pay would be $1,200 per month, plus $100 supplemental.

Colonel, navy captain, present top for 30 years' service is $811.20, would be $950 entry pay, plus $100 supplemental; from two to three years' service, now $592.80, would be $1,005, plus $100 supplemental; from four to five years' service, now $631.80, would be $1,065, plus $100 supplemental.

Lieutenant colonel, commander, present maximum, $670.80, entry pay would be $710 plus $50 supplemental; from two to three years' service, now $474.24, would be $750, plus $50 supplemental; four to five years, now $507, would be $795, plus $50; over six years, now $507, would be $840, plus $50.

Major, lieutenant - commander, present maximum with 30 years' service is $592.80, entry pay would be $530; from two to three years' service, now $400.14, would be $560; from four to five years, now

Scandal In New York Is Integration Result

The current scandal in New York is over education, the competence of the educational system, the wisdom of so-called modern and progressive ideas and methods. In a broader sense, it is a racial question. It concerns itself with the assimilation of the enormous Puerto Rican population and the integration of the Negroes in the school system.

The politicians have dodged this issue for two decades and now it has blown up in their faces because in a large number of schools, labelled "difficult," there is no discipline; teachers are beaten by pupils; there is theft, robbery, rape and mayhem. Into this complex situation stepped a publicity-conscious grand jury in Brooklyn which came up with the idea that these problems which beset public education throughout the country and are influencing our national social structure, can be solved by stationing a patrolman in each school. To this the Board of Education, a competent body, objected on the sound grounds that it is pedagogically bad for the children to associate the school system with force of this type, that only a comparatively few schools are disorderly (41 out of 850) and that the problem must be solved within the school system itself to be of any value to the children.

While this quarrel is being conducted in the newspapers, a high school principal, Dr. George Goldfarb, after visiting the grand jury, commits suicide. Prior to this tragic event, Dr. Goldfarb had in-

DR. CRANE SAYS

Clergymen's Wives Unusually Vital

Joe's wife wants to become a greater asset to her husband. So she wonders what college courses she should take while he is enrolled at the seminary. Read the advice below, for a capable wife is worth at least 50 per cent to her husband's success, whether he be a physician, dentist, engineer or clergyman.

Case X-324: Joe B., aged 23, is now enrolled in a theological seminary.

"Dr. Crane, I have married a wonderful girl," he told me in our interview after I had addressed his Chapel Convocation.

"And she wants to take some courses to help become a more efficient aid to me when we get a church.

"What would you suggest? Should she enroll in some of my seminary classes?"

WIVES, N. B. Wives, note bene: You should be worth at least 50 per cent to your husband's future success in any profession.

But clergyman's wives are unusually vital. So try to prepare yourselves for the duties ahead of you.

And I believe you will gain more from a year at Business College than from a year of any other type of education.

For clergyman's wives require talented wives who know shorthand and typing, as well as how to cut stencils and edit a mimeographed monthly magazine.

They need a shrewd bookkeeper and a wife who has taken some courses in Applied Psychology as well as Business Law.

They will benefit from a wife who has specialized secretarial training and who has taken courses in public speaking as well as $429, would be $595; over six years, now $429, would be $630.

Captain (army), lieutenant (navy), present maximum with 30 years' service, $514.80, entry pay would be $420; from one to two years, now $326.04, would be $432; from two to three years, now $326.04, would be $445; from three to four years, now $351, would be $458; from four to five years, now $374.40, would be $471; over six years, now $405.60, would be $500.

First lieutenant, lieutenant (junior grade), present maximum, $413.40, entry pay would be $335; under two years, now $274.18, would be $345; from two to three years, now $274.18, would be $355; from three to four years, now $335.40, would be $365; from four to five years, now $335.40, would be $368.

Second lieutenant, ensign, present maximum, $374.40, entry pay would be $222; up to two years, now $222.30, would be $244; from two to three, now $237.12, would be $268.

Business Colleges offer students intensely practical courses on ALL of those subjects. Their graduates thus know how to take hold of any problem in a church office.

Young clergyman nowadays aren't furnished paid secretaries, so they must depend primarily on a talented wife to direct the business side of their profession and even make out their income tax reports.

BUSINESS COLLEGE VS. LIBERAL ARTS

A year at a Liberal Arts college will not prepare a young woman to help her husband, whether he be physician, lawyer, engineer, or clergyman, as will a year in any leading Business School.

For example, you can obtain your A. B. or B. S. from four years in Liberal Arts colleges and still never have taken a single course in Business Law or Applied Psychology, Salesmanship or Public Speaking.

But in Business College you obtain all those vital courses, plus a dozen others that are equally helpful.

Mrs. Crane is a product of a Ft. Wayne Business College and her one year of such courses has benefited me far more than if she had obtained a Master's Degree from any Liberal Arts college.

In fact, when my sister was ready to enter Northwestern University, I wrote home from Evanston and urged her to enroll in Business College for at least one full year before she matriculated at Northwestern.

This she did and has been grateful ever since. She later came to Northwestern, but benefited far more than her classmates because of her broad practical education at Business College.

Joe's wife will absorb a lot of his seminary training, anyway, as she types his class reports and term papers.

And she might like to register for a few special courses at the seminary. But she will be Joe's best mainstay when they are assigned a church, by her efficient Business College training.

Every livewire church needs a monthly magazine, usually mimeographed. The pastor's wife is generally the proper person to serve as the Managing Editor, though she requires a dozen efficient reporters.

So send for my booklet "How to Zoom Church Attendance," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It gives specific ideas even for preparing this church mimeographed magazine and can easily add 25 per cent to your church attendance inside of just three months.

Men Often Know More Than Wives

NEW YORK (A)—Most American husbands know more than their wives. Even bachelors know more than wives.

These truths, long secretly suspected by men themselves, have been more or less scientifically proved by two young producers, Dan Enright and Jack Barry.

The pair produce two NBC-TV network quiz shows, "Twenty-One" and "Tic Tac Dough," on which some 1,600 contestants have won $1,200,000 in the last 18 months.

Entrants took a preliminary general information quiz of 100 questions. So, if you want to know what your chances of getting on such a program are, here is your answer: The odds are better than 10-1 against you.

The wedding of written examination has led to some disclosures that might interest psychologists as well as educators.

"For one thing," said Enright, "although housewives make up the largest single group to apply as contestants, they do the poorest."

"They simply don't have the range of knowledge that men do. Housewives usually can answer less than 60 per cent of the 100 questions."

"Men, on the other hand, get about 70 per cent correct answers—and so do career women. The reason that career women do so well is probably because they have to compete with men in the business world so they have to keep better informed."

But Enright, wary of stirring up the wrath of housewives, readily admitted they had a realm of knowledge all their own—the art of homemaking—which is rarely investigated on quiz shows.

"They simply don't have the time to run their homes and still pick up all the general information their husbands know," he said. "In their free time, they like to escape from their cares. They want relaxation and entertainment, not heavy reading about world affairs."

Women generally, whether housewives or career gals, don't do quite as well as men even if tests show they are of real constant caliber. Enright still isn't sure why.

"One psychologist explained it was because women are naturally more averse than men to being challenged and placed in a position where they might publicly fail. But I'm not so sure that's so. After all, as many women risk marriage as do men."

What occupational group does best on quiz shows? Oddly, it isn't teachers, doctors, engineers, scientists or lawyers.

"They are all tops in their specialties," said Enright. "But authors and newspapermen seem to have a wider range of information on general topics. They have to. It's the nature of their jobs."

Enright, only 40, has a pretty wide range himself. He began as a radio engineer, switched to programming because he felt his talents were too confined.

He is quite philosophical about the attacks of critics against the quiz shows which have buttered his own bread golden.

"If there is a plethora of any type of program," he said, "it isn't because there is an obstinate group of network officials and sponsors trying to force their own ideas on the public. It's because the public, as best they can tell, want this type of entertainment."

"We are dealing with the most ephemeral thing in the world—public taste. Anybody who can call his shots right on public taste can write his own check."

"These things do run in cycles. There will probably always be room for a good quiz show as long as it remains entertaining, but the period in which quiz programs were pre-eminent is past. We're in the Western show cycle now."

Well, how about the next cycle? Will it combine the quiz show and the cowboy opera?

"No," said Enright, smiling. "I don't think most contestants would do very well on horseback."

Food Worry For Elderly Widower

Men Without Cooks An elderly widower writes that he is in a quandary about his diet.

"It is easy for a woman to live alone because she knows how to cook. It is much more difficult for a man who cannot afford to eat at restaurants. I should have roast beef, lamb, veal, pork, and other meats but must resort to cans of this or that, as well as frankfurters and Will you advise us old-timers on a practical way to eat?"

This is a common problem for men who can't cook. But modern science has come to the rescue. There are many frozen foods, including complete dinners that are ready to serve as soon as heated. Fresh vegetables are available in most stores and are easy to prepare.

Any cookbook tells how to make soups and stews. Cereals, eggs, and milk are not difficult to manage. A supplementary pill containing vitamins and minerals such as Mi-Cebrian can be used on the outside chance that the older is not receiving as much as he should.

If this cannot be tackled, and the man has no desire to remarry, he could apply for admission to a home where he will find good food, companionship, and care.

Apropos of this problem, there is a story in the Christmas issue of Abbott Laboratories' What's New. A volunteer project, called Meals on Wheels, delivers hot and cold meals to a group of aged and ailing oldsters who are living on a small social security allowance.

This plan was started in the United States at the Lighthouse, a settlement house near Philadelphia. It was adapted from the English Women in Green project organized during World War II to help those whose homes were blitzed by the Germans.

Other communities have been inspired. Columbus, O., has its volunteer meals on wheels. The state health department of New York is investigating its possibilities and so are several cities such as Dallas, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, and Rochester, Minn.

These lonely old people have benefited physically and emotionally from the service and the burden of the taxpayer has been reduced. One Lighthouse client calls the women who deliver his meals his "platter angels."

Overweight and Pregnancy T. F. writes: Does overweight prevent conception?

Reply No, except when obesity is on a glandular basis. This is not a common cause of overweight.

Infection and Sweating D. R. writes: Are night sweats a part of viral pneumonia?

Reply Yes; they occur with many infections, especially when there is fever.

Skin Toughening D. H. writes: I feel the cold so much I wonder if I could toughen my skin by taking colder and colder baths every day.

Reply It may help. Meanwhile, wear more clothing and ask your physician to test your metabolism, as you may have a thyroid deficiency.

Blood Test Needed D. R. writes: Is there a skin test to diagnose syphilis?

Reply No. Testing the blood is the best method. If the result is positive, the spinal fluid is checked to determine whether the nervous system is involved.

Teachers Plan Salary Battle

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 7 (AP)—Louisiana teachers today plotted an all-out drive to secure cash for their pay raise in the 1958 legislative session and to force the Legislature to erase a barrier to future raises.

The eight-point legislative program of the Louisiana Teachers Assn. centers on two major items:

1. A two-cent hike in the natural gas gathering tax, dedicated to provide the last half of a pay raise voted by the 1956 Legislature, but paid only at the 50 per cent level the past two school years.
2. Wiping out the two-thirds vote of both houses required for new taxes. This blocked teacher tax bids in 1956, when the lawmakers adopted the higher schedule.

Long Urged To Stop Sale Of La. Sand

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The New Orleans States said yesterday Gov. Earl K. Long was asked for four days ago to stop state Sen. A. O. Rappelet from selling sand from state owned land.

The appeal to Long was made in a telegram by the Grand Isle Civic Improvement Assn., the Grand Isle Rotary Club and Grand Isle Justice of the Peace Clyde Pregeant, the paper said.

The States said a Rotary Club spokesman, Mike Harris, said the telegram was sent Monday to Long and copies were sent to other state officials and Jefferson Parish officials as well.

But there has been no indication of any action against Rappelet so far, Harris told the States.

"Senator Rappelet is presently selling sand from state owned lands in locations in Leesville and Grand Isle, disregarding pending suits in Jefferson Courts," the States said the telegram read.

"Removal of sand endangers highway bridge serving Grand Isle community. Your help is needed to make senator honor our laws and state property."

In addition to Long, the States said the telegram went to Lt. Gov. Luther Frazier, Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion, State Highway Director R. B. Richardson, State Public Works Director Loris M. Wimberly, State Sen. Alvin Stump, State Reps. Jack Rau and James Beeson, Jefferson Parish Sheriff William C. C. Police Jury President Leroy Hall, and Frank Langridge, Jefferson Parish district attorney.

"He (Rappelet) is still taking the sand and selling it," the States quoted Harris as saying.

SAYS LASSITER

Whites Outnumber Negroes In Purge

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Albin P. Lassiter, district attorney at Monroe, said today the voter purge in Ouachita Parish affected more whites than Negroes.

The 1956-57 purge of voter registration rolls attracted national attention after thousands of Negroes lost their privilege to vote. Lassiter told state district attorneys at a conference sponsored by the state attorney general's office the purge was not directed against the Negro.

The Ouachita district attorney was one of four panel members in a discussion on civil rights. Other panelists were Leander H. Perez, St. Bernard-Plaquemines district attorney; George M. Ponder, assistant attorney general; and Charles Riddle Jr., Marksville district attorney.

Political leaders of both Louisiana and the nation, Lassiter said, have misinterpreted the "famous Monroe story."

He said 6,778 white voters were challenged by the white Citizens Council and the registrar of voters.

During the identical period, he said, 5,940 Negro voters were challenged.

Lassiter said 4,318 Negro voters have never taken the trouble to answer the challenge, while 2,434 white voters did not bother to answer.

"Of the 1,632 Negroes who answered the challenges," he said, "961 were reinstated."

Critics fail to point out three pertinent factors, he said.

Some 838 more white voters were challenged than Negroes; the FBI made an investigation

A total of $73,719 in building permits were issued in West Monroe during January.

Two vehicles, one driven by D. B. Mayes, 60, of 103 Commerce, West Monroe, and the other driven by Walter Willis, 45, of 1903 Cypress, West Monroe, collided on Cypress Street Thursday, West Monroe Police said yesterday.

No injuries were reported, but damage to the cars was estimated at over $100. Both parties were charged with reckless driving and causing an accident, authorities added.

DISTRICT COURT

Several Receive Terms In Prison

A 20-year-old man yesterday guilty to three counts of simple burglary and drew four years in the penitentiary on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently.

Judge David I. Garrett meted out the term to Bobby Ross, charged with breaking into a concession stand at Conway Memorial Hospital.

Norman Lee Goldsby, alias Norman Lee Dangerfield, 24, pleaded guilty to three counts of simple burglary and drew four years in the penitentiary on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently.

Henry Duncan Jr. and Goldsby were each charged with theft of an auto valued at $650. Duncan, 32, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, and Goldsby received four years, to run concurrently with the burglary term.

Receiving 12 months in the penitentiary was Donald King, 18, on charges of simple burglary. King made headlines last August when he was shot in front of the Kitchenette on S. Second St. He and his two companions at first maintained that they did not know who had wounded the youth, but three days later, on August 18, Larry White admitted that a gun accidentally fired while the three were examining it.

Remanded

A Negro who had been extradited from Chicago was found guilty of theft of $265 from the Borden Company during a period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1956. Remanded for sentence was Dee Gray.

Perjury resulted in a 12-month penitentiary sentence for Mrs. Lola Rawls, 34, of Route 3, Box 341, Eros. Her husband, Clyde Arnold Rawls, 46, also received a 12 month sentence but it was suspended and he was placed on probation.

Both appeared before the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury last Oct. 16 and stated that they did not know the whereabouts of their son, Clyde Arnold Rawls, who had escaped from L.T.I. on June 25, 1957. On Dec. 6, Sheriff Bailey Grant went to the house to investigate, discovered the youth in the kitchen, and disarmed him when the escapee threatened to kill the lawman if Grant tried to take him into custody. The youth held a 12-gauge shotgun on the sheriff.

Rawls was later sent to the penitentiary after being found guilty of attempted murder. Mr. and Mrs. Rawls were found guilty of perjury on the charge that they knew their son was in their home when they appeared before the grand jury.

Other Action

In other court action this week, the trial of Cary Arthur Trammel was continued until Feb. 20. He is charged as being a third offender, driving while intoxicated.

Robert Bearden, 27, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary after he admitted a forgery charge.

Remanded for sentencing was Howard Sawyer, who pleaded guilty to theft of $20. Remanded for pre-sentence investigation was Tony Halachoulis, who admitted two counts of issuing worthless checks for food and lodging. One check was for $100.00, and the other was for $160.73.

Continued without date is the trial of Carrie Beaudoin, charged with theft of $90.

Pleading guilty to forgery was Ervin Leon Atkins, 20. He drew five years in the penitentiary, suspended.

WinnsboroASC Office Honored

WINNSBORO (Special)—The U. S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program office of Franklin Parish, located here, has been selected the outstanding ASC county office in the northeast Louisiana district.

George R. Kimbrough of Tallulah, ASC state committee member, yesterday presented certificates of commendation to the following:

Edward J. LaForge, parish office manager; Enola L. Fox, chief clerk; Ruth E. Grube and R. D. Reagan, head program clerks; and Jimmie B. Smith, Fleta J. Davis, Herbert Banks and Bessie W. Miller, program clerks.

Also receiving certificates were G. K. Broadway, senior committee chairman; H. E. Mock and O. S. Newman, alternate committee members; and G. C. Davis, Sr. and J. E. Richardson. Davis and Richardson are not currently committee members but received the commendations because of their last-year's committee work.

Seven Qualify In W. Monroe Council Race

Seven West Monroe men have qualified as candidates for seats on the 5-man city council, with Ben Farmer and H. H. McBroom filling yesterday.

A native of West Monroe, McBroom has not held any city office in the past either, and is a mechanic for Bentz and Elmore Construction Co.

Five Others

The five qualifying previously are A. P. Burkett, C. E. Ponder, Amos Hood, Loy Heard and R. C. Jolissaint.

Mayor J. Allan Norris is the only candidate filing thus far for the mayor's post.

Deadline for qualifying is Thursday at 5 p.m.

Police Probe Liquor Theft

City Police yesterday were investigating the reported theft of some $75 worth of liquor taken from the Joe's Cut Rate Liquor Store 1301 1/2 Texas Ave.

Authorities said Edna S. Welch, operator, told them she found 17 "fifties," and seven pints, of assorted liquors had been taken. She said she discovered that the liquor was missing when she opened the establishment yesterday morning.

The woman, police said, reported that both the rear and front doors of the establishment were locked and that entrance must have been gained by use of skeleton keys. Police said this seemed the most probable explanation since none of the doors had been forced.

The establishment is owned by Joe Domino.

Authorities also continued an investigation into the theft of a Nash Rambler tudor reported taken from Boyce Nash used car lot sometime Thursday night.

The car is green and bears 1957 La. 414-892 plates, police said.

Students To See Planting Methods

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Forestry students from Louisiana State University today will demonstrate planting methods at the Oak Grove School in Cameron Parish, part of a project designed to save lives in future hurricanes by growing more oak trees.

The oak planting program was inspired by reports of persons saved during hurricane Audrey by hanging onto oak trees during the wind and high water.

Oak seedlings will be distributed to three schools in the parish and 4-H Clubs will distribute 40,000 acorns to those who want to plan oak trees on their property.

Cub Scout Pack Exhibit Shown

A display of handicraft—the work of members of Cub Pack No. 231—is being featured at a downtown location for a week, it was announced yesterday.

The exhibit is in a display window of the Drew Music Store on DeSiard. Sponsor of the Cub Pack is St. Paul's Methodist Church.

In charge of arranging the display were Mrs. J. H. Rogers and Mrs. Dot Brazzell.

Teachers Plan Salary Battle

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 7 (AP) — Louisiana teachers today plotted an all-out drive to secure cash for their pay raise in the 1958 Legislature and erase a barrier to future taxes.

The eight-point legislative program of the Louisiana Teachers Assn., centers on two major items: 1. A two-cent hike in the natural gas gathering tax, dedicated to provide the last half of a pay raise voted by the 1956 Legislature, but paid only at the 50 per cent level the past two school years.

2. Wiping out the two-thirds vote of both houses required for new taxes. This blocked teacher tax bids in 1956, when the lawmakers adopted the higher schedule.

Long Urged To Stop Sale Of La. Sand

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The New Orleans States said yesterday Gov. Earl K. Long was asked for four days ago to stop state Sen. A. O. Rappelet from selling sand from state owned land.

The appeal to Long was made in a telegram by the Grand Isle Civic Improvement Assn., the Grand Isle Rotary Club, and Grand Isle Justice of the Peace Clyde Pregeant, the paper said.

The States said a Rotary Club spokesman, Mike Harris, said the telegram was sent Monday to Long and copies were sent to other state officials and Jefferson Parish officials as well.

But there has been no indication of any action against Rappelet so far, Harris told the States.

"Senator Rappelet is presently selling sand from state owned lands in locations in Leesville and Grand Isle, disregarding pending suits in Jefferson Courts," the States said the telegram read.

"Removal of sand endangers highway bridge serving Grand Isle community. Your help is needed to make senator honor our laws and state property."

In addition to Long, the States said the telegram went to Lt. Gov. Leher Frazier, Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremlion, State Highway Director R. B. Richardson, State Public Works Director Morris M. Wimberly, State Sen. Alvin Stumpf, State Reps. Jack Rau and James Beeson, Jefferson Parish Sheriff William Coci, Police Jury President Leroy Hall, and Frank Langridge, Jefferson Parish district attorney.

"He (Rappelet) is still taking the sand and selling it," the States quoted Harris as saying.

le, then snuffed out a bid for a higher gas gathering tax to finance it.

The LTA legislative and public relations committees met in closed session today.

In a joint statement, legislative chairman F. F. Wimberly Jr., Iberia Parish school superintendent, and public relations chairman Dr. William M. Rigdon, director of teacher training at Southeast Louisiana College, said:

"The committees are laying plans for an intensive statewide campaign of public information using all media, such as television, radio, newspapers and public meetings.

"The purpose of this meeting was to begin formulating joint plans of the two committees in preparation for the 1958 legislative session.

"The meeting was devoted to a discussion of how these two committees could work together over a period of the next four or five months to inform the people of Louisiana along with the members of the Legislature as to the needs of public education for the coming year.

"Naturally the committees are pursuing the eight-point legislative program adopted at the LTA convention at Shreveport last November."

When the 1956 salary schedule was adopted it was estimated to cost about 32 million dollars. However, the addition of new teachers and seniority raises have shoved the total cost to an estimated 43 million dollars in 1958-59.

The State Board of Education at its meeting last week recommended the application of the full schedule to the May Legislature.

However, the present 50 per cent pay hike was supplied from existing surpluses and more money must be found for next year.

Gov. Earl Long has hinted teachers may need the tax hike just to keep their salaries at the present level.

And state budget officers say revenues are lagging slightly under estimates, although most of the deficit is in revenues dedicated to highways and does not affect the general fund.

The LTA was balked in 1956 by the two-thirds tax barrier, as a higher gas gathering tax fell only a few votes short of passage. Under the old 51-vote requirement in the House, the proposal would have been enacted.

The 1955 fiscal Legislature passed the two thirds amendment and voters ratified it in April, 1956, just before the Legislature met, over the protest of Long, then governor-elect.

Any repeal of the two-thirds requirement would have to be in the form of a constitutional amendment, needing two-thirds approval of both houses itself and approval by the voters in November.

When the 1957 fiscal Legislature provided only half the pay hike, teachers touched off a drive for a special legislative session to enact the higher gas gathering tax.

Long said he would call it if the LTA could show him the required two-thirds vote in each house.

After more than two months, Wimberly announced last September the drive had failed.

However, the LTA vote to renew the bid for the tax by endorsing its legislative program for 1958 at Shreveport.

DISCUSS CIVIL RIGHTS—Albin P. Lassiter, district attorney at Monroe (right) and Leander H. Perez, St. Bernard-Plaquemines district attorney are shown before they participated in a civil rights panel discussion at meeting of district attorneys of Louisiana at New Orleans yesterday. Lassiter, speaking before the group, said the voting purge in Ouachita affected more whites than Negroes. (AP Wirephoto)

SAYS LASSITER

Whites Outnumber Negroes In Purge

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Albin P. Lassiter, district attorney at Monroe, said today the voter purge in Ouachita Parish affected more whites than Negroes.

The 1956-57 purge of voter registration rolls attracted national attention after thousands of Negroes lost their privilege to vote.

Lassiter told state district attorneys at a conference sponsored by the state attorney general's office the purge was not directed against the Negro.

The Ouachita district attorney was one of four panel members in a discussion on civil rights.

Other panelists were Leander H. Perez, St. Bernard-Plaquemines district attorney; George M. Ponder, assistant attorney general; and Charles Riddle Jr., Marksville district attorney.

Political leaders of both Louisiana and the nation, Lassiter said, have misinterpreted the "famous Monroe story."

He said 6,778 white voters were challenged by the white Citizens Council and the registrar of voters.

During the identical period, he said, 5,940 Negro voters were challenged.

Lassiter said 4,318 Negro voters have never taken the trouble to answer the challenge, while 2,434 white voters did not bother to answer.

"Of the 1,632 Negroes who answered the challenges," he said, "961 were reinstated."

Critics fail to point out three pertinent factors, he said.

Some 838 more white voters were challenged than Negroes; the FBI made an investigation and a secret report to Washington which was followed by a federal grand jury investigation; no witnesses were called by the grand jury relative to disqualification of voters in Ouachita Parish although many witnesses were called from other north Louisiana parishes concerning disqualifications.

Lassiter said voting is a privilege and not a right. Unless registration laws are followed strictly, he said, Louisiana will face continued block voting such as arose during the post-Civil War Reconstruction period.

Vehicles Collide

Two vehicles, one driven by D. B. Mayes, 60, of 103 Commerce, West Monroe, and the other driven by Walter Willis, 45, of 1903 Cypress, West Monroe, collided on Cypress Street Thursday, West Monroe Police said yesterday.

No injuries were reported, but damage to the cars was estimated at over $100. Both parties were charged with reckless driving and causing an accident, authorities added.

DISTRICT COURT

Several Receive Terms In Prison

A 20-year-old man yesterday was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary at Angola on burglary charges.

Judge David I. Garrett meted out the term to Bobby Ross, charged with breaking into a concession stand at Conway Memorial Hospital.

Norman Lee Goldsby, alias Norman Lee Dangerfield, 24, pleaded guilty to three counts of simple burglary and drew four years in the penitentiary on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently.

Henry Duncan Jr. and Goldsby were each charged with theft of an auto valued at $650. Duncan, 32, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, and Goldsby received four years, to run concurrently with the burglary term.

Receiving 12 months in the penitentiary was Donald King, 18, on charges of simple burglary. King made headlines last August when he was shot in front of the Kitchennett on S. Second St. He and his two companions at first maintained that they did not know who had wounded the youth, but three days later, on August 18, Larry White admitted that a gun accidentally fired while the three were examining it.

Remanded

A Negro who had been extradited from Chicago was found guilty of theft of $265 from the Borden Company during a period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1956. Remanded for sentence was Dee Gray.

Perjury resulted in a 12-month penitentiary sentence for Mrs. Lola Rawls, 34, of Route 3, Box 341, Eros. Her husband, Clyde Arnold Rawls, 46, also received a 12 month sentence but it was suspended and he was placed on probation.

Both appeared before the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury last Oct. 16 and stated that they did not know the whereabouts of their son, Clyde Armand Rawls, who had escaped from L.T.I. on June 25, 1957. On Dec. 6, Sheriff Bailey Grant went to the house to investigate, discovered the youth in the kitchen, and disarmed him when the escapee threatened to kill the lawman if Grant tried to take him into custody. The youth held a 12-gauge shotgun on the sheriff.

Rawls was later sent to the penitentiary after being found guilty of attempted murder. Mr. and Mrs. Rawls were found guilty of perjury on the charge that they knew their son was in their home when they appeared before the grand jury.

Other Action

In other court action this week, the trial of Cary Arthur Trammel was continued until Feb. 20. He is charged as being a third offender, driving while intoxicated.

Robert Bearden, 27, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary after he admitted a forgery charge.

Remanded for sentencing was Howard Sawyer, who pleaded guilty to theft of $20. Remanded for pre-sentence investigation was Tony Halachoulis, who admitted two counts of issuing worthless checks for food and lodging. One check was for $100.00, and the other was for $160.73.

Continued without date is the trial of Carrie Beaudoin, charged with theft of $90.

Pleading guilty to forgery was Ervin Leon Atkins, 20. He drew five years in the penitentiary, suspended.

Attorney Coffee
Earlier in the week, Miss Montgomery was complimented at an attorney coffee, when Mrs. George W. Guerrero and Miss True Guerrero, entertained in their home at 1809 North Fifth Street.

Miss Guerrero greeted the guests at the entrance, pretty in a pinafore of white orzandy over a red cotton dress.

In the receiving line with the honoree, lovely in a black eyelet sheath, were Mrs. Guerrero, Mrs. Howard Montgomery, and Mrs. Milford S. Minor.

Artistic arrangements of white camellias were placed at various points throughout the reception rooms. A lovely pyramid of white camellias framed with tall white tapers furnished candlelight view of the coffee service.

Mrs. John Maury Allen, in a red and black print, peared, assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Swain, in a soft mauve wool. Miss Lorna Montgomery, sister of the non-oree, presided at the guest book, and was lovely in a red wool sheath model.

Calling between the hours of four and six o'clock were:

Max Thomas Jefferson, Mrs. Max Riey, Mrs. Jack Blanks, Mrs. J. W. Tooke, Mrs. Frank Pettit, Jr., Mrs. Anna Breese, while others are only satisfied in

For Successful Living We Must Be Adaptable

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Science teaches us that life must adapt to its environment if it is to survive successfully. Some forms of life can live only in fresh water, others in shallow ocean beds, some on high mountains, some in northern forests and others in plains, in woodlands or even in the icy wastes of Antarctica.

Some species seem to be able to live only in one environment while others can survive in many. The most successful species are those that can adapt themselves to a wide range of conditions.

a large city or a small town. Some hate or like wind, others hot weather and still others snow. So many folks are so tied to their environment that some large companies hesitate to employ those who come from a drastically different part of the country. However, cars and super highways and planes have made this less true today than it used to be.

Part of Pressure
Adaptation to brand new living conditions is part of the pressure of modern living. Any man or woman lives most easily in the place he or she likes best. Therefore it seems wise to weigh this in planning your life.

However, much more important than adapting to the place in which we live, is the ability to adjust to the things which happen to us in daily living, to the intimate conditions in which we live. The test of truly successful living is the ability to adapt to a change in physical condition or financial state and even more to the loss of one we love.

BUT, many folks find it difficult to adjust themselves to the most mundane changes. In order to live gallantly, to build a successful marriage or home or to succeed in any of our personal relationships, we must be adaptable. Once you stop fighting the change it sometimes turns out to be a blessing, or at least you may discover that it has some advantages, and it will certainly be much more pleasant for you and for those who know you if you will ride with the tide.

The Edward J. Seymours Host Rehearsal Supper At The Shreveport Club

Hundreds of white camellias and other bridal white flowers were used last night at the Shreveport club at the handsome supper party given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Seymour. It followed the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Anna Clair Campbell and their son, Edward J. Seymour, Jr.

A fresh green and white foliage and flower note was struck immediately as the guests entered the foyer of the third floor of the club.

Later, the wedding party was seated at a large table whose U-shape was traced by a line of Nile green satin ribbon sprinkled with rice grains and trailed with white camellias. White Italian china cupped held aloft candelabra in which burned white candles and at their bases were garlands of camellias, stock flowers, candytuft and maiden hair fern. The white flowers and fern lay at the base of the candle groupings on the other round and oblong tables at which the additional guests were seated.

Gathered at the club with the hosts and the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. E. Rupert Campbell, Miss Mary Ann Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Underwood, Miss Charlotte Brown, Dr. and Mrs. J. YOUR BABY AND MINE

Grandma Declares 'Hands Off' Policy For Children

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Grandmothers can be very touchy about their role in their children's lives. They tend to be resentful if their advice is spurned. This makes them feel unneeded. This is a feeling no one enjoys.

They resent as fully being made to feel responsible for the mishaps or even just the everyday tasks of the new household. They consider that they have accomplished their goals when they reared their own children, and they want no part of the responsibility of their grandchildren.

Somewhere between these two extremes we will find the average grandmother. She finds it a pleasure and not an obligation to take care of her grandchildren, provided the task is not foisted upon her too consistently.

If she is asked for economic aid for the family, she feels she has the right to offer some advice with it. This is not unreasonable when she is using her money to finance its future.

Letter

One grandparent rises to defend the grandparents who stay out of their children's affairs. "I am one of those grandparents who do not bother her children," she writes. "I contact them by telephone and if they need anything I hope they will let me know. But I speak for millions of grandparents who want freedom from responsibility for their in-law's lack of freedom."

I reared four children and we had plenty of grief. I did not hold my own or my husband's family responsible for it. They reared their children and were entitled to the right to enjoy the latter part of their lives with no obligations to their children. We aren't monsters or tyrants because of that."

No, but you are unusual, since all of us feel an obligation toward our children, and their children, as long as we live. We may not meddle in their lives but we lend a helping hand when needed and consider it a privilege to be happy related to them in their happiness, sorrow, defeats and emergencies.

A Real Loss

Being thoughtless and cruel, giving no companionship to married children, nor any "lifts" when they need it, is not admirable in anyone. Since your letter was inspired by the daughter-in-law who wrote of the husband's family who left her alone in a strange town and never came near or asked if they could do anything for her, it seems only fair to say that as relatives, neighbors or just human beings these in-laws were a real loss. Why try to make excuses for them?

If you would like our leaflet "The Problem of Relatives" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 84 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Highland PTA Holds Founder's Day Program

The Highland P.T.A. held its annual Founder's Day Program at 2:30 in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Jack Dew, Founder's Day chairman introduced the guest speaker, Mr. R. H. Manning, Jr., the assistant Superintendent of the Webster Parish Schools. Mr. Manning pointed out that the American people had not kept abreast of the times, scientifically or sociologically. Progress has been slow in the field of science and has made little progress in combating juvenile delinquency or improving human relations. The speaker stressed the importance of tightening the standards in the schools.

Following the program, Mrs. Crawley, the president, presided over a short business session. At this time Mrs. Julius Cathy presented Mrs. Crawley a Life Membership pin for her service as President of Highland P.T.A. for the 1957-58 session.

Mrs. Jack Thompson made the report of the nominating committee as follows: president, Mrs. A. R. Nix, vice president, Mrs. James Green, secretary, Mrs. Porter Barton, and treasurer, Mrs. Jack Thompson.

Room count was won by Mrs. Reed's first grade room.

The meeting was adjourned and a Founder's Day Tea was held in the cafeteria for all members.

F. A. Babb Guest Speaker At The East Carroll HDC

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Russell E. Sprague of Tallulah, entertained the East Carroll Home Demonstration Council with color slides on Hawaii, and accompanied the slides with a short descriptive talk on each place shown. Also guest speaker on the program was F. A. Babb, parish chairman of the Heart Fund Drive. Plans were made for committees to work in each ward, under Mr. Babb's leadership.

Presiding during the business session was Mrs. Herman Ragus, president. Plans were made for holding a cotton dress style show on May 9th, with each club to submit entries. Delegates to attend the District meeting in Ruston were also selected at this time. They are Mrs. Herman Ragus, Mrs. W. P. Rushing, Mrs. J. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Clifford Dickey, Mrs. H. I. Arledge and Miss Eunyce Howard.

Club delegates were asked to remind their fellow club members that dues, 4-H scholarship fund and fellowship funds should be turned in as soon as possible.

Members of the Magnolia and Melbourne Clubs were hostesses for the day.

Attending were: Mrs. W. M. DeMoss, Mrs. Herman Ragus, Mrs. H. L. Condrey, Mrs. Roy Burgess, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Dukes, Mrs. R. I. Thrasher, Mrs. J. B. YOUR PROBLEMS

Agency Adoption Is Much Fairer To Child

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: Two years ago my sister wrote you about a family matter. Your advice almost ruined my life. Please tell me where to go from here.

My niece married a worthless bum who spent most of his Army career in the brig. She became pregnant immediately. When she had her baby she said she was leaving it in the hospital because she didn't want it. I was horrified. I begged her to let me have the child and she said "Good riddance!"

When I came to get the baby I was shocked. The infant was sleeping in a dresser drawer and was filthy dirty.

My niece wrote you for advice, which I didn't know until much later. You said "Let your aunt take the baby TEMPORARILY, but don't let her adopt it legally or there will be trouble!" They took your advice.

Five months later my niece went back to the bum and they made our lives miserable trying to get the baby away. They hounded us until we finally gave her up. Your advice kept us from keeping the child as it was not legally ours.

Now my niece is pregnant again and this time she swears she doesn't want the new baby. My daughter-in-law who is childless wants the baby very badly. My niece is willing to let her adopt it and promises to leave her alone. What do you say THIS time?—A.W.

I say exactly the same thing—and for the same reasons. I don't agree that my advice ruined your life. Time proved the advice was sound. I merely saved you a possible court fight.

I advised the mother not to permit you to adopt the child because I felt in time she'd change her mind and want the baby back. This is what happened and it could happen again.

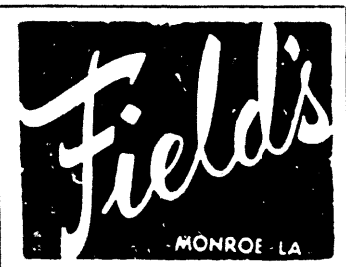

During pregnancy your niece becomes depressed and doesn't want the baby. But later, when she sees the healthy, adorable child, her outlook brightens and she changes her mind. Even if the child were legally yours she'd still give you plenty of trouble. You'd forever be at the mercy of her neurotic fluctuations.

I'm opposed to adoption by relatives unless the parents are deceased. If your niece doesn't want the baby she should work through an agency. They never reveal the identity of the new parents. The adopted parents then need not worry about the natural parents having a change of heart and reclaiming the child. And needless to say, the baby gets a much better break in the bargain.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Pre-Nuptial Parties Fete Miss Montgomery And John R. Sims

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Montgomery were hosts at the Rendezvous last evening to a rehearsal supper prior to the wedding of Miss Alice Montgomery and John R. Sims.

Forming the centerpiece for each table were Valentines made of camellias. The bride and groom elect chose this time to exchange wedding gifts and to give tokens of appreciation to the attendants.

Miss Montgomery was lovely in a beige knit model complimented by brown accessories. The hostess was pretty in a black dinner dress accented by rhinestone jewelry.

Seated with the hosts and the honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Montgomery, parents of the bride - elect, Mr. and Mrs. Miford S. Minor, parents of the groom - elect, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. The Edward J. Seymours Host Rehearsal Supper At The Shreveport Club

Hundreds of white camellias and other bridal white flowers were used last night at the Shreveport club at the handsome supper party given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Seymour. It followed the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Anna Clair Campbell and their son, Edward J. Seymour, Jr.

A fresh green and white foliage and flower note was struck immediately as the guests entered the foyer of the third floor of the club.

Later, the wedding party was seated at a large table whose U-shape was traced by a line of Nile green satin ribbon sprinkled with rice grains and trailed with white camellias. White Italian china cups held aloft candelabra in which burned white candles and at their bases were garlands of camellias, stock flowers, candytuft and maiden hair fern. The white flowers and fern lay at the base of candle groupings on the other round and oblong tables at which the additional guests were seated.

Gathered at the club with the hosts and the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. E. Rupert Campbell, Miss Mary Ann Underwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Underwood, Miss Charlotte Brown, Dr. & Mrs. J. Richard Brown, Miss Dee Stahl, Mrs. Harry Stahl, Miss Barbara Ann Fullove, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fullove, Miss Olive Duboisson, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilmer, Miss Ann Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Duer Wagner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Chastain, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Flowers, Rev. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Plumley, Rev. and Mrs. Rudolph Bangert, Mr. and Mrs.

Highland PTA Holds Founder's Day Program

The Highland P.T.A. held its annual Founder's Day Program at 2:30 in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Jack Dew, Founder's Day chairman introduced the guest speaker, Mr. R. H. Manning Jr., the assistant Superintendent of the Webster Parish Schools. Mr. Manning pointed out that the American people had not kept abreast of the times, scientifically or so cialogically. Progress has been slow in the field of science and has made little progress in combating juvenile delinquency or improving human relations. The speaker stressed the importance of tightening the standards in the schools.

Following the program, Mrs. Crawley, the president, presided over a short business session. At this time Mrs. Julius Cathy presented Mrs. Crawley a Life Membership pin for her service as President of Highland P.T.A. for the 1957-58 session.

Mrs. Jack Thompson made the report of the nominating committee as follows: president, Mrs. A. R. Nix, vice president, Mrs. James Green, secretary, Mrs. Porter Barton, and treasurer, Mrs. Jack Thompson.

Room count was won by Mrs. Reed's first grade room. The meeting was adjourned and a Founder's Day Tea was held in the cafeteria for all members.

F. A. Babb Guest Speaker At The East Carroll HDC

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Russell E. Sprague of Tallulah, entertained the East Carroll Home Demonstration Council with color slides on Hawaii, and accompanied the slides with a short descriptive talk on each place shown. Also guest speaker on the program was F. A. Babb, parish chairman of the Heart Fund Drive. Plans were made for committees to work in each ward, under Mr. Babb's leadership.

Presiding during the business session was Mrs. Herman Ragus, president. Plans were made for holding a cotton dress style show on May 6th, with each club to submit entries. Delegates to attend the District meeting in Ruston were also selected at this time. They are Mrs. Herman Ragus, Mrs. W. P. Rushing, Mrs. J. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Clifford Dickey, Mrs. H. I. Arledge and Miss Eunyce Howard.

Club delegates were asked to remind their fellow club members that dues, 4-H scholarship fund and fellowship funds should be turned in as soon as possible.

Members of the Magnolia and Melbourne Clubs were hostesses for the day.

Attending were: Mrs. W. M. DeMoss, Mrs. Herman Ragus, Mrs. H. L. Condrey, Mrs. Roy Burgess, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Dukes, Mrs. R. I. Thrasher, Mrs. J. B. YOUR PROBLEMS

Agency Adoption Is Much Fairer To Child

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: Two years ago my sister wrote you about a family matter. Your advice almost ruined my life. Please tell me where to go from here.

My niece married a worthless bum who spent most of his Army career in the brig. She became pregnant immediately. When she had her baby she said she was leaving it in the hospital because she didn't want it. I was horrified. I begged her to let me have the child and she said "Good riddance".

When I came to get the baby I was shocked. The infant was sleeping in a dresser drawer and was filthy dirty.

My niece wrote you for advice, which I didn't know until much later. You said "Let your aunt take the baby TEMPORARILY but don't let her adopt it legally or there will be trouble". They took your advice.

Five months later my niece went back to the bum and they made our lives miserable trying to get the baby away. They hounded us until we finally gave her up. Your advice kept us from keeping the child as it was not legally ours.

Now my niece is pregnant again and this time she swears she doesn't want the new baby. My daughter-in-law who is childless wants the baby very badly. My niece is willing to let her adopt it and promises to leave her alone. What do you say THIS time?—A.W.

I say exactly the same thing—and for the same reasons. I don't agree that my advice ruined your life. Time proved the advice was sound. I merely saved you a possible court fight.

I advised the mother not to permit you to adopt the child because I felt in time she'd change her mind and want the baby back. This is what happened and it could happen again.

During pregnancy your niece becomes depressed and doesn't want the baby. But later, when she sees the healthy, adorable child, her outlook brightens and she changes her mind. Even if the child were legally yours she'd still give you plenty of trouble. You'd forever be at the mercy of her neurotic fluctuations.

I'm opposed to adoption by relatives unless the parents are deceased. If your niece doesn't want the baby she should work through an agency. They never reveal the identity of the new parents. The adopted parents then need not worry about the natural parents having a change of heart and reclaiming the child. And needless to say, the baby gets a much better break in the bargain.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Scientists have catalogued nearly 300 different kinds of birds in Arkansas — among the rare ones are the tern, the whistling swan, the whooping crane, the Ekima.

Northeast Entertains Southeastern Tonight

Northeast's cagers, still seeking their first Gulf States Conference win after four tries, engages Southeastern tonight at 8 in the first of the Indians' six straight season-closing loop games. To be played at Ouachita, the will be the second of the year for the two clubs. Northeast opened their league schedule with Southeastern on Jan. 11 at Hammond and at a close verdict, 65-60. Neither team is cutting too wide a swath in the Gulf States loop. Southeastern having a 2-3 mark in the conference and Northeast 0-4.

With guard Bob Patterson recovered from an ankle injury that slowed him a bit in the East Texas Baptist game, Coach Lenny Fant's Northeast team "is hurting, but not physically."

The Indians have lost 10 this season against seven wins and have dropped five of their last six. East Texas Baptist won a 62-57 decision here in the Indians' latest start.

Southeastern has a worse season mark than Northeast, having lost 11 times while winning seven. However, as pointed out earlier, they've won two games in the conference, including a 59-50 upset of Louisiana Tech. They fell to Southwestern, 64-53, Wednesday night.

"They'll be tough," said Fant of Southeastern. "They've got some good outside boys and enough height on the inside. We played one of our best games in the conference against them in January but couldn't win."

Forward Dave Glisson is the leading Lion scorer through last week's games with a 15.9 per cent average. Guard Jimmy Casabat, the only other Southeastern player averaging in the double figures, has scored at 14.7 points per game clip.

Glisson and Casabat will start with Harvey Theriot leading off at the other forward, Paul Pietri at the other guard and Ron Klosterman at center.

Fant will start Bob Groves and Huey Cottrell at the forwards, Billy May at center and Patterson and John Freeman at the guards.

May started off as the Indians' big scorer but Patterson and Freeman have carried the load of late. In the scoring figures released Tuesday by the Gulf States Conference, Patterson was averaging 15.5 per game and May 12.5 points. Freeman got 24 points against East Texas Baptist and 28 against Louisiana College on Jan. 28.

Eleven Nags In McLennan Chase Today

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Eleven capable thoroughbreds, headed by 1957 Kentucky Derby winner Iron Liege, were entered today for the $50,000 added mile and an eighth McLennan Handicap at Hialeah Park tomorrow.

Iron Liege, from the powerful string of Calumet farm racers, will carry high weight of 124 pounds but was made early choice at 3 to 1 with his stablemate, Pinor Lea, assigned 110 pounds.

Second choice in the betting probably will be Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny, under 118; C. T. Chenery's Third Brother, 123; Frank C. Rand Jr.'s St. Amour 2nd, 116, or Happy Hill farm's Kingmaker, 119 pounds.

The McLennan, a tuneup for the $100,000 added Widener at a mile and a quarter two weeks later, also attracts Brookmeade's 534 lb's Oligarchy, assigned 113 pounds; Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Hoop Band, 116; Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game, 111; Tartan stable's Chilean-bred Meeting, 106, and Short Brook farm's Mr. Host, 104.

Rain most of today turned the racing strip to sloop and assured an "off" track for the McLennan. However, mud probably will not cut the field noticeably, since most of these entries can handle any sort of going and with 11 starters the winner will net $47,800 from a gross of $56,200.

High School Basketball

PANTHERS - EAGLES — LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — The Lake Providence Panthers and Holly Ridge Eagles split a basketball double header here last night. The Panther girls, with a 21-3 record for the season, won this non-conference clash, 38-25, and the visiting Holly Ridge boys took a 58-45 decision.

The Lake Providence girls, unbeaten in conference play, can host the district Class A tournament if they win their last two conference battles against Tallulah here Tuesday night, and Oak Grove here Thursday night. The Panther sextet was runner-up to district rival Oak Grove for the state championship last year.

Barbara Leggett led the L. P. girls last night with 25 points. Methvin hooped 14 to lead Holly Ridge. In the boys' game the top scorers were Ken Futch, Holly Ridge, 38; and Ned Edmondson, Lake Providence, 10.

SIMSBORO ADVANCES

SIMSBORO, La. (Special) — Simsboro's defending state Class B champions, led by all-stars J. B. Edmonson and Max Lewis, defeated Spearsville, 73-45, in a district 3-B title playoff last night. Simsboro was the No. 1 team in the south section of the district and Spearsville was No. 2 in the north section.

Simsboro meets the winner of a similar game between Dubach, No. 1 in the north, and Quitman, No. 2 in the south, here next Friday night for the district championship.

Edmonson led the Tigers last night with 24 points, and Lewis dropped in 18. Jerry Alexander gave them fine support with a 16-point production. Ike Futch was the big man for Spearsville with 16 points.

Simsboro's record for the season is 37-4.

FERRIDAY - VIDALIA

VIDALIA, La. (Special) — Vidalia's efforts to block Ferriday by placing three guards on Ferriday's "Dumpy" Graves did not stop the Bulldog ace from leading his team to a 61-45 victory here last night to clinch the Tri-Parish League championship with a 10-2 record.

Graves was high scorer with 25 points, and Gary Bamberg, a newcomer, backed him with 15. Billy Calvert was high scorer for Vidalia with 17.

Ferriday overcame a seven-point Vidalia lead in the fourth quarter to win the girls' game, 35-33. Anita Rogers led the winning girls with 17 points.

MANGHAM - START

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham beat Start in a basketball double header here last night — 65-27 for the boys and 49-34 for the girls.

Claude Mercer, Charlie Jones and Charles Mercer hit double figures for Mangham at 15-13-11 respectively. Hardwick and Cheek had 11 and 10 for Start. Peggy Arrant led Mangham's girls with 21, matched by Start's Slocum.

GOLDBERG ARRIVES

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Syracuse basketball coach Marc Gulley feels that Ed Goldberg, a 5-foot-10 sophomore from Fort Lee, N. J., arrived when he scored 30 points against Fordham and 21 against Pitt in the same week. Ed also held Pitt star Don Henion to 12 points.

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE—Oklahoma State U. basketball coach Hank Iba, above, chalked up his 500th victory since taking over as coach at the Stillwater, Okla., school 24 years ago when his team beat the U. of Tulsa, 64-46, last Tuesday night. The victory gave

Iba a record of 612 victories and 176 losses in his 29 years as a college coach, placing him second behind Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle, with a 673-231 record for 36 years. Iba's Oklahoma State teams have lost 154 games. (AP Wirephoto)

JOHNSTON, LEMA

Rank Outsiders Tied For Lead In Tucson Tourney

By HAL WOOD

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP) — Bill Johnston, Provo, Utah, and Tony Lema, Napa, Calif., a pair of rank outsiders, took over the second day lead in the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament Friday with 36 hole scores of 131—nine strokes under par on the El Rio Country Club course.

While Thursday's co-leaders with Johnston, Frank Stranahan, and Manuel de la Torre, faltered somewhat to 69s and 133 totals, Lema hooked around the tree, slamming his club into the trunk and bending it. But the ball landed on the green, five feet from the cup and he sank the putt for the tie. He was out in 35, and back in 32. Course par is 35-35-70.

Another longshot, Jim Riggins of Anderson, S.C., came in with a 67 to go with his opening 66 for a 132 total—one stroke back of the leaders.

There was a four-way tie at 133 with De la Torre and Stranahan. Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., came in with the best round of the day—a 64—to go with an opening 69; and National PGA champion Lionel Hebert put together rounds of 66-67 to join the same select class.

The rash of penalties that has been plaguing the pros here was extended when Tony Holguin found an extra club in his bag while walking down the first fairway and that cost him two extra strokes. Thursday four different professionals were assessed a total of 28 strokes in penalties.

"It wasn't even my club," said Tony. "You'll find it out outside a tree—smashed in two." He had a 77 for the round and was eliminated.

It took a score of 142 or better to qualify for the final 36 holes. Tied at 134 were John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., 65-69; Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., 69-65; Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, 66-68; Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La., 68-66; and Don January, Eastland, Tex., 67-67.

The leaders: Tony Lema, Napa, Calif., 66-65—131. Bill Johnston, Provo, Utah, 64-67—131. Jim Riggins, Anderson, S. C., 66-67—132. Manuel De La Torre, Milwaukee 66-66—132.

Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La., 66-67—132. Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C., 66-64—132. Frank Stranahan, Toledo 64-69—132. John Barnum, Grand Rapids Mich. 65-69—134.

Jerry Barber, Los Angeles 66-68—134. Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., 69-65—134. John Pott, Shreveport, La., 68-66—134. Don January, Eastland, Tex., 67-67—134. Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., 68-67—135.

Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., 67-69—135. Dave Marr, Cedarhurst, N. Y., 69-67—136. Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., 67-69—136. Bessie Link, Grossinger, N. Y., 68-68—136.

Bob Duden, Oswego, Ore., 69-67—136. Bob Frayne, Wilmette, Ill., 69-69—137. Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., 67-70—137. Walter Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., 69-68—137. Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., 67-70—137.

Johnston added a 67 to his opening round of 64, and Lema came roaring up from behind with a fine 65 to go with an opening 66 to deadlock one stroke in front of the field.

It appeared that Johnston was going to fall out of the lead coming up to the 18th hole. His second shot landed behind a tree when he needed a birdie to tie the early-finishing Lema. But the young pro was equal to the task. He hooked around the tree, slamming his club into the trunk and bending it. But the ball landed on the green, five feet from the cup and he sank the putt for the tie. He was out in 35, and back in 32. Course par is 35-35-70.

In other "B" games yesterday, Kelly girls beat Columbia, 15-7, with C. Lewis scoring 9 for the winners and A. Graham got 4 for the losers. Grayson defeated Kelly, 49-33, in a "B" boys game. May got 12 points for Grayson and Gough got 10 for Kelly.

C. Lewis scored 16 points for Kelly in the girls' "B" finals with S. Stamper leading Grayson with 6.

Columbia plays Grayson in the "B" boys finals at 6 tonight and the varsity finals will be at 7 and 8.

Bowie Opens East's Turf Season Today

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 7 (AP)—Bowie opens the 1958 major racing season in the east tomorrow — the earliest ever.

Although the weatherman promises snow flurries overnight, and perhaps into tomorrow, to match the skim ice, the track confidently predicted an opening day crowd of 15,000 and a daily total bet of at least a million dollars for the 40-day meeting.

There are horses aplenty in the barns. Racing secretary John P. Turner Jr., expected to be flooded with entries, especially for the shorter distance races.

Bowie gambled last year and went for the late-winter meeting to escape the competition of New Jersey and New York tracks.

It paid off handsomely. The daily average attendance last year was 12,000 and the average handle was $1,003,542.

"I think our upcoming meeting starting tomorrow will be just about on a par with 1957," said Howard Pierce, Bowie's vice president and general manager.

"Everybody is saying the economic level is below last year, and they're right. And betting at the Florida tracks is off, too. But the thing that is going to help us is that there has been no racing in this area since mid-December."

"A lot of people have been able to accumulate a bankroll. . ."

The $3,000 minimum purse policy instituted by the track last year has pulled to Maryland a lot of horses that otherwise would still be in Florida.

Ring's Entry Heads Santa Anita Field

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP)—Twelve mares and fillies today were named to battle it out for the mythical championship of the distaff division in the $50,000 added Santa Margarita Handicap at Santa Anita tomorrow.

Heading the field was Mrs. Connie M. Ring's Market Basket, the high-weight at 123 pounds, including jockey Ray York.

Next in line is Mrs. Leslie Fenton's Nooran, 6-year-old daughter of the Irish Stakes star, Nooran, at 118 pounds for the Santa Margarita, picks up three pounds off her photo-win over the Triple K stable's Myrtle in the Santa Maria Handicap two weeks ago. Bill Boland again will ride Nooran. Myrtle carries 111 tomorrow.

Box C. Ellsworth tries with Ballet Khal, with Willie Shoemaker up. Ballet Khal, ran third in the blanket finish of the Santa Maria, while Market Basket trailed a poor fifth.

Others named for the mile and one-eighth feature were Triple Jay, Summer Story, Omelia, Punilla, Born Rich, Royal Rasher, Solid Rae and Cold Hands.

If all 12 start, the 21st running of the race will be worth a gross $57,800, with $34,700 net to the winner.

The last three editions of the Santa Margarita have been won by foreigners. Our Bettors, an Irish importation, won the last two.

There are three foreign-bred candidates in this field. They are Omelia and Punilla from Argentina and Royal Rasher from Ireland.

PLAYER TURNS COACH

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Dick Nicholson, starting forward on last year's University of Colorado basketball team, is an assistant coach this season under Russell (Sox) Walshe at Colorado. Nicholson scored 175 points in 23 games last year.

Northeast Entertains Southeastern Tonight

Northeast's cagers, still seeking their first Gulf States Conference win after four tries, engages Southeastern tonight at 8 in the first of the Indians' six straight season-closing games.

To be played at Ouachita, the tilt will be the second of the year for the two clubs. Northeast opened their league schedule with Southeastern on Jan. 11 at Hammond and at a close verdict, 65-60. Neither team is cutting too wide a swath in the Gulf States loop. Southeastern having a 2-3 mark in the conference and Northeast 0-4.

With guard Bob Patterson recovered from an ankle injury that slowed him a bit in the East Texas Baptist game, Coach Lenny Fant's Northeast team "is hurting, but not physically."

The Indians have lost 10 this season against seven wins and have dropped five of their last six. East Texas Baptist won a 62-57 decision here in the Indians' latest start.

Southeastern has a worse season mark than Northeast, having lost 11 times while winning seven. However, as pointed out earlier, they've won two games in the conference, including a 59-50 upset of Louisiana Tech. They fell to Southwestern, 64-53, Wednesday night.

"They'll be tough," said Fant of Southeastern. "They've got some good outside boys and enough height on the inside. We played one of our best games in the conference against them in January but couldn't win."

Forward Dave Glisson is the leading Lion scorer through last week's games with a 13.9 per cent average. Guard Jimmy Casabat, the only other Southeastern player averaging in the double figures, has scored at 14.7 points per game clip.

Glisson and Casabat will start with Harvey Theriot leading off at the other forward, Paul Pietri at the other guard and Ron Klosterman at center.

Fant will start Bob Groves and Huey Cottrell at the forwards, Billy May at center and Patterson and John Freeman at the guards.

May started off as the Indians' big scorer but Patterson and Freeman have carried the load of late. In the scoring figures released Tuesday by the Gulf

PANTHERS - EAGLES
LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — The Lake Providence Panthers and Holly Ridge Eagles split a basketball double header here last night. The Panther girls, with a 21-3 record for the season, won this non-conference clash, 38-25, and the visiting Holly Ridge boys took a 58-45 decision.

The Lake Providence girls, unbeaten in conference play, can host the district Class A tournament if they win their last two conference battles against Tallulah here Tuesday night, and Oak Grove here Thursday night. The Panther sextet was runner-up to district rival Oak Grove for the state championship last year.

Barbara Leggett led the L. P. girls last night with 25 points. Melvin hooped 14 to lead Holly Ridge. In the boys' game the top scorers were Ken Futch, Holly Ridge, 38; and Ned Edmondson, Lake Providence, 10.

SIMSBORO ADVANCES
SIMSBORO, La. (Special) — Simsboro's defending state Class B champions, led by all-stars J. B. Edmondson and Max Lewis, defeated Spearsville, 73-45, in a district 3-B title playoff last night. Simsboro was the No. 1 team in the south section of the district, and Spearsville was No. 2 in the north section.

Simsboro meets the winner of a similar game between Dubach, No. 1 in the north, and Quitman, No. 2 in the south, here next Friday night for the district championship.

Edmondson led the Tigers last night with 24 points, and Lewis dropped in 13. Jerry Alexander gave them fine support with a 16-point production. Ike Futch was the big man for Spearsville with 15 points.

Simsboro's record for the season is 37-4.

FERRIDAY - VIDALIA
VIDALIA, La. (Special) — Vidalia's efforts to block Ferriday by placing three guards on Ferriday's "Dumpy" Graves did not stop the Bulldog ace from leading his team to a 61-45 victory here last night to clinch the Tri-Parish League championship with a 10-2 record.

Graves was high scorer with 25 points, and Gary Bamburg, a newcomer, backed him with 15. Billy Calvert was high scorer for Vidalia with 17.

Ferriday overcame a seven-point Vidalia lead in the fourth quarter to win the girls' game, 35-33. Fanita Rogers led the winning girls with 17 points.

MANGHAM - START
MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham beat Start in a basketball double header here last night — 65-27 for the boys and 49-34 for the girls.

Claude Mercer, Charlie Jones and Charles Mercer hit double figures for Mangham at 15-13-11 respectively. Hardwick and Cheek had 11 and 10 for Start. Peggy Arrant led Mangham's girls with 21, matched by Start's Sloucum.

GOLDBERG ARRIVES
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Syracuse basketball coach Marc Guley feels that Ed Goldberg, a 5-foot-10 sophomore from Fort Lee, N. J., arrived when he scored 30 points against Fordham and 21 against Pitt in the same week. Ed also held Pitt star Don Henon to 12 points.

COACH DEFENDS WILT'S ABILITY
LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP) — Kansas Coach Dick Harp, rancored by recent criticisms of Wilt Chamberlain Friday came to the defense of his seven-foot star who he said "would be great even at six-feet."

Scoffing at printed charges that Chamberlain is not a shooter, but a "stuffer," Harp said "time, I think will prove that Wilt is one of the game's great shooters. He's got good touch and a fine shot repertoire."

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE—Oklahoma State U. basketball coach Hank Iba, above, chalked up his 500th victory since taking over as coach at the Stillwater, Okla., school 24 years ago when his team beat the U. of Tulsa, 64-46, last Tuesday night. The victory gave

Iba a record of 612 victories and 176 losses in his 29 years as a college coach, placing him second behind Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle, with a 673-231 record for 36 years. Iba's Oklahoma State teams have lost 154 games. (AP Wirephoto)

JOHNSTON, LEMA

Rank Outsiders Tied For Lead In Tucson Tourney

By HAL WOOD
TUCSON, Ariz. (UP) — Bill Johnston, Provo, Utah, and Tony Lema, Napa, Calif., a pair of rank outsiders, took over the second day lead in the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament Friday with 36 hole scores of 131—nine strokes under par on the El Rio Country Club course.

While Thursday's co-leaders with Johnston, Frank Stranahan, and Manuel de la Torre, faltered somewhat to 69s and 133 totals,

Johnston added a 67 to his opening round of 64, and Lema came roaring up from behind with a fine 65 to go with an opening 66 to deadlock one stroke in front of the field.

It appeared that Johnston was going to fall out of the lead coming up to the 18th hole. His second shot landed behind a tree when he needed a birdie to tie the early-finishing Lema. But the young pro was equal to the task. He hooked around the tree, slamming his club into the trunk and bending it. But the ball landed on the green, five feet from the cup and he sank the putt for the tie. He was out in 35, and back in 32. Course par is 35-35-70.

Another longshot, Jim Riggins of Anderson, S.C., came in with a 67 to go with his opening 65 for a 132 total—one stroke back of the leaders.

ENTER SEMIFINALS

Favorites Win In Franklin Tourney

GILBERT, La. (Special) —Fort Necessity boys and Winnsboro and Central girls, the favorites, took first round wins here last night to enter the semi-finals of the Franklin Parish Basketball Tournament.

Fort Necessity swept past Baskin, 48-26, Winnsboro girls beat Wisner, 49-31, and Central's girls defeated Baskin, 52-42. Other games saw Crowleyville beat Gilbert, 52-47 and Ogden rout Fort Necessity, 48-17, in the girls division. In boys games, Central whipped Wisner, 53-28, Winnsboro topped Ogden, 52-44, and Gilbert edged Crowleyville, 46-45.

Central plays Crowleyville at 2:20 p.m. in the girls semi-finals today and Fort Necessity plays Gilbert at 1:10 and Central engages Winnsboro at 3:30 in the boys semis. The finals will be at 7:30 and 8:30 tonight.

Kathryn Tucker of Crowleyville and Linda Arnold of Gilbert led their teams in scoring with 19 points each. Pepper had 33 points for Central girls and Wilson led Baskin with 19. Fain and Hatten topped the Ogden scoring with 22 each while Ross paced Fort Necessity with 13. Claudine Watson's 25 points led Winnsboro and Stella Bass was high for Wisner with 16.

B. Black of Central was high point man for the night in the boys division with 23 points. Malory Bannister got 11 for Wisner. Frank Peoples led Winnsboro with 12 points and Harvey Gumbell had 22 for Ogden. A. J. Burlew paced Fort Necessity with 18 markers while Sidney Smith got 11 for Baskin. LeBeaux of Gilbert scored 15 points and Crowville's Weatherly put in 17.

Finals Today In Caldwell Parish Meet

COLUMBIA, La. (Special) — Grayson and Kelly girls and Columbia and Grayson boys play in the Caldwell Parish Tournament finals tonight. Kelly won the "B" teams girls championship here yesterday with a 41-17 romp over Grayson.

Grayson girls defeated Columbia, 30-22, yesterday to enter the finals of the three-school tournament while Kelly drew a bye. Columbia boys routed Kelly, 90-41, to coast into the finals while Grayson was drawing bye.

In other "B" games yesterday, Kelly girls beat Columbia, 15-7, with C. Lewis scoring 9 for the winners and A. Graham got 4 for the losers. Grayson defeated Kelly, 49-33, in a "B" boys game. May got 12 points for Grayson and Gough got 10 for Kelly.

C. Lewis scored 16 points for Kelly in the girls "B" finals with S. Stamper leading Grayson with 6.

Columbia plays Grayson in the "B" boys finals at 6 tonight and the varsity finals will be at 7 and 8.

May scored 13 points to lead Grayson's varsity girls over Columbia while Duke's 11 points topped Columbia. Jerry Mobley scored 19 points for Columbia's varsity boys and Perkins had 12 for Kelly.

The victory was the 43rd for Lopes. He has suffered 14 losses and fought to three draws. Collazo's record is 42-10-2.

READY FOR RACES
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The first of the great Native Dancer's offspring is ready for the races at Hialeah. He is East Indian. Unlike his gray-coated daddy, the 2-year-old is a pure bay in color. But he has the same wide quarters, short back and a good-sized head.

Bowie Opens East's Turf Season Today

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 7 (AP)—Bowie opens the 1958 major racing season in the east tomorrow — the earliest ever.

Although the weatherman promises snow flurries overnight, and perhaps into tomorrow, to match the skim ice, the track confidently predicted an opening day crowd of 15,000 and a daily total bet of at least a million dollars for the 40-day meeting.

There are horses aplenty in the barns. Racing secretary John P. Turner Jr. expected to be flooded with entries, especially for the shorter distance races.

Bowie gambled last year and went for the late-winter meeting to escape the competition of New Jersey and New York tracks.

It paid off handsomely. The daily average attendance last year was 12,000 and the average handle was $1,003,542.

"I think our upcoming meeting starting tomorrow will be just about on a par with 1957," said Howard Pierce, Bowie's vice president and general manager.

"Everybody is saying the economic level is below last year, and they're right. And betting at the Florida tracks is off, too. But the thing that is going to help us is that there has been no racing in this area since mid-December."

"A lot of people have been able to accumulate a bankroll. . ."

The $3,000 minimum purse policy instituted by the track last year has pulled to Maryland a lot of horses that otherwise would still be in Florida.

Ring's Entry Heads Santa Anita Field

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP) — Twelve mares and fillies today were named to battle it out for the mythical championship of the distaff division in the $50,000 added Santa Margarita Handicap at Santa Anita tomorrow.

Heading the field was Mrs. Connie M. Ring's Market Basket, including jockey Ray York.

Next in line is Mrs. Leslie Fenton's Nooran, 6-year-old daughter of the Irish Stakes star, Noor. Nooran, at 118 pounds for the Santa Margarita, picks up three pounds off her photo-win over the Triple K stable's Myrtle in the Santa Maria Handicap two weeks ago. Bill Boland again will ride Nooran. Myrtle carries 111 tomorrow.

Rex C. Ellsworth tries with Ballet Khal, with Willie Shoemaker up. Ballet Khal, ran third in the blanket finish of the Santa Maria, while Market Basket trailed a poor fifth.

Others named for the mile and one-eighth feature were Triple Jay, Summer Story, Omelia, Punilla, Born Rich, Royal Rasher, Solid Rae and Cold Hands.

If all 12 start, the 21st running of the race will be worth a gross $57,800, with $34,700 net to the winner.

The last three editions of the Santa Margarita have been won by foreigners. Our Bettors, an Irish importation, won the last two.

There are three foreign-bred candidates in this field. They are Omelia and Punilla from Argentina and Royal Rasher from Ireland.

PLAYER TURNS COACH
BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Dick Nicholson, starting forward on last year's University of Colorado basketball team, is an assistant coach this season under Russell (Sox) Waltham at Colorado. Nicholson scored 175 points in 23 games last year.

Eleven Nags In McLennan Chase Today

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Eleven capable thoroughbreds, headed by 1957 Kentucky Derby winner Iron Liege, were entered today for the $30,000 added mile and an eighth McLennan Handicap at Hialeah Park tomorrow.

Iron Liege, from the powerful string of Calumet farm racers, will carry high weight of 124 pounds but was made early choice at 3 to 1 with his stablemate, Pin-tor Lea, assigned 110 pounds.

Second choice in the betting probably will be Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny, under 118; C. T. Chenery's Third Brother, 123; Frank C. Rand Jr.'s St. Amour 2nd, 116, or Happy Hill farm's Kingmaker, 119 pounds.

The McLennan, a tuneup for the $100,000 added Widener at a mile and a quarter two weeks later, also attracted Brookmeade stable's Oligarchy, assigned 113 pounds; Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Hoop Band, 116; Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game, 111; Tartan stable's Chilean-bred Meeting, 106, and Short Brook farm's Mr. Host, 104.

Rain most of today turned the racing strip to slop and assured an "off" track for the McLennan. However, mud probably will not cut the field noticeably, since most of those entered can handle any sort of going and with 11 starters the winner will net $47,600 from a gross of $66,200.

AIMS HIGH — Olympian pole vaulter Bob Gutowski, above, will fly over the 16-foot pole vault barrier this year, Occidental coach Chuck Coker predicts. 'RIDICULOUS'

Did Not Recruit Frosh--Wilkinson

NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—Oklahoma will not accept Mike McClellan, Baylor University freshman athlete, for athletics unless he leaves Baylor "in their good graces and has a letter from them to that effect," Bud Wilkinson, OU athletic director and football coach announced Friday.

Wilkinson's directive was telephoned to his aides here from Nevada where he is vacationing. "The boy's high school coach phoned me. I knew there would be a great deal of criticism regarding the boy's transferring," Wilkinson said. "I therefore told the boy's coach that we could not accept Mike unless he could leave Baylor in their good graces and he had a letter from them saying that."

"I am sorry I have been on vacation and haven't been in close connection with the situation," McClellan, who enrolled here Wednesday, brought a written release from the faculty chairman of the Baylor athletic committee, but apparently Wilkinson did not feel it sufficient covered the situation.

The Sooners coach, plainly irked at allegations by Baylor Coach Sam Boyd that McClellan had been recruited, said, "It's ridiculous to say that we would do so."

"It should be obvious," said Wilkinson, "that we never had recruited from another school before, nor will we ever do so."

Wilkinson said he would talk with Boyd after he returns to Norman this week and would "try to work out something to clear up the situation."

Sally Deaver 1st Starter In Giant Slalom

BAD GASTEIN, Austria (UP)—Sally Deaver of Philadelphia, rebuked by her coach earlier in the week, tries to atone with a better performance Saturday in the women's giant slalom of the world ski championships.

Miss Deaver, the U.S. slalom champion, will be the first starter in the field of 42 girls from 14 nations. Other Americans in the giant slalom are Linda Myers of Bishop, Calif., starting 15th; Nonie Foley of Houghton, Mich., 20th; and Madi Springer - Miller of Stowe, Vt., 25th.

While American women were not expected to win any of the three individual titles at stake this week, Miss Deaver has been ranked among the favorites each time. She finished 19th in the slalom and 24th in the downhill race.

Putzi Hiller of Jackson Hole, Wyo., coach of the U.S. women's team, admitted her disappointment at Miss Deaver's showing in the slalom.

"She really didn't push very hard," Miss Hiller commented. The combined standings, based on performances in the two previous women's events, show Miss Myers 10th and Miss Deaver 12th.

Lucille Wheeler of Canada, winner of the slalom, is third behind two Europeans.

Men's competition winds up Sunday with Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., making an all-out effort for victory in his specialty, the downhill race.

Soccer Team To Carry On Despite Crash

MANCHESTER, England (UP)—While this industrial city mourned its soccer heroes killed in Thursday's plane crash in Munich, Germany, the chairman of the Manchester United team promised to "carry on, even if it means we are heavily defeated."

Seven members of Manchester United the New York Yankees of British soccer, were killed in the plane crash and three others were injured.

Only two first team players—goalkeeper Harry Gregg and right back Billy Foulkes—escaped comparatively uninjured. Four other players more seriously hurt may be able to play again after a few weeks. C. P. Hardman, chairman of the soccer club, announced that the team will carry out its full schedule "as soon as it is humanly possible," because "we have a duty to the public and a duty to football (soccer)."

Hardman said the club's board of directors will meet next week to discuss how to rebuild from the effects of the air disaster. At Duesseldorf, Germany, a spokesman for the German Football Federation endorsed a Yugoslav suggestion to award Manchester United the honorary European Cup title for 1958. The plane bearing the British team was returning home from Belgrade, where it had eliminated the Yugoslav Red Star club from the cup competition.

SCORING

Wright Takes Over Small School Lead

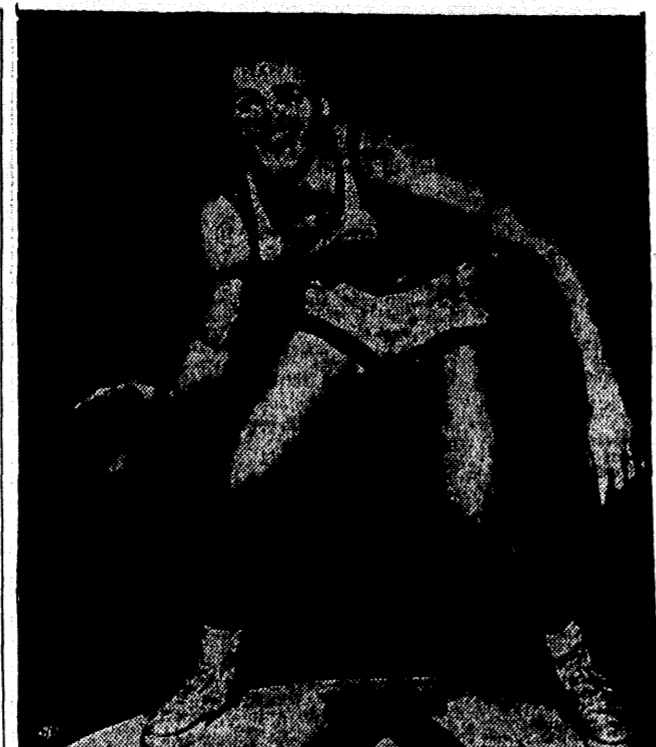

NEW YORK (UP)—Teddy Wright of South Carolina State, who kept pouring points through the hoop while his chief rivals were idle, took over the national small-college basketball scoring lead Friday to end a four-week reign by Bob Shepard of Clarkson.

Wright, who ripped an average of 32 points per game for 13 games during January, moved to the front with an average of 28.1 points per game for the season, the first time this year he has led the pack and the first time it has been led by a player from any section except the East.

Wright also leads the nation's scorers on a total points basis with a total of 562 points in 20 games.

Shepard and oe Gaetano of Quinnipiac, who were idle for two weeks with mid-year examinations while Wright was on his scoring spree, dropped from the first and second spots to second and third with 27.6 and 27.1 averages respectively.

Arnold Smith of Allen University in Columbia, S.C., retained the lead in free throw accuracy. Sink- ing 17 of 18 during the past two weeks, he now has converted 69 out of 73 for the year for a brilliant .945 average.

TWO-SPORT STAR — Jack Kubiszyn, 21-year-old Alabama senior from Buffalo, N. Y., has major league scouts on his trail. Right now Kuby is leading the Crimson Tide basketball team in scoring. He's fine at baseball, too.

Baylor Frosh Denies He'll Move To Army

WACO (UP)—Charles Brown, a star Baylor freshman tackle from Cleburne, Tex., said Friday he has no plans to leave Baylor to enroll at the U.S. Military Academy despite rumors to the contrary.

However, the husky 220-pound youth admitted that he had taken some of the pre-registration tests to enroll at West Point and that he had talked to Col. Earl Blaik, the West Point football coach.

"But I do not intend to go there," Brown said. "I am happy at Baylor and intend to stay here and play football here."

The Fort Worth Press, which broke the story about Brown's leaving, said the boy was "talked to" by Blaik while Blaik was in Dallas for the Navy - Rice Cotton Bowl game.

Blaik told the United Press at West Point that the report was true, but denied that Brown had been "recruited." He said that Brown had sought him out and made inquiries about transferring to the academy.

Blaik also said he understood that Brown had "made an effort" to get into the academy before enrolling at Baylor.

Blaik pointed out that Brown was under no pressure from West Point to make the change.

The Fort Worth paper also said its source had quoted Brown as saying that "there are a lot of us unhappy down here," referring to the Baylor campus.

Baylor Coach Sam Boyd, still filled by what he claims was the "recruiting" of freshman halfback Mike McClellan by Oklahoma, denied any knowledge of such mass unhappiness. He said "there always is going to be some unhappiness with freshmen until they get accustomed to the transition to college life."

Dixie Series May Return To Southern

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7 (UP)—Southern Association directors will meet in Birmingham Feb. 12 to discuss the reinstatement of the league's baseball playoffs and the Dixie Series.

Charlie Hurth, association president, said he called the meeting at the request of a majority of the clubs in the league.

The directors voted at Colorado Springs last December to discontinue the regular playoffs at the end of the season and to withdraw from the Dixie Series if the Texas League refused to approve a reduction in series games.

The Texas League refused and the series was abandoned. However, a number of clubs expressed hope that both playoffs could be resumed.

Apparently the movement to reinstate the post season games gained momentum, and a majority of the directors expressed a desire to reconsider the Colorado Springs action.

Hurth said the meeting will convene at 10 a.m. at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel.

EASY AS CREAM PUFFS

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa. (UP)—In advance of their high school match, Bellefonte wrestlers mailed a parcel containing a cream puff to their Lock Haven opponents. When they met a few days later, Lock Haven won 7 of the 11 matches for a 25-16 victory, then went back to its dressing room to cut up the cream puff as a victory feast.

Sooner State League Will Not Operate This Season

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (UP)—The cure working agreements with play ball this season. Class D Sooner State baseball major league teams, a prime source of income for the clubs. J. J. Magota, league vice-president, said at Muskogee, chances of the eight member teams re-Ponca City also bowed out for "are very good" the league will make a comeback in 1959. Magota has been handling affairs of the league while president George Seminole, Ada and Vernon, in Oklahoma and Paris, Tex., the league while president George Barr of Tulsa, is in Florida directing an umpire school. Meanwhile, Vernon Chapman, president of the Shawnee Hawks, said he is considering a plan for a proposed four-team league to consist of clubs from Shawnee, Ada, Seminole and Ardmore.

Ada and Vernon were new additions to the eight-club league. They replaced Greenville, Tex., which dropped out at the close of the 1957 season and Lawton, which turned in its franchise last Sunday.

The Sooner State League was formed in 1947 as a six-team organization and in 1948 expanded to eight clubs. Lawton was the last of the charter members.

'RIDICULOUS'

Did Not Recruit Frosh--Wilkinson

NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—Oklahoma will not accept Mike McClellan, Baylor University freshman athlete, for athletics unless he leaves Baylor "in their good graces and has a letter from them to that effect," Bud Wilkinson, OU athletic director and football coach announced Friday. Wilkinson's directive was telephoned to his aides here from Nevada where he is vacationing. "The boy's high school coach

Sally Deaver 1st Starter In Giant Slalom

BAD GASTEIN, Austria (UP)—Sally Deaver of Philadelphia, rebooked by her coach earlier in the week, tries to atone with a better performance Saturday in the women's giant slalom of the world ski championships.

Miss Deaver, the U.S. slalom champion, will be the first starter in the field of 42 girls from 14 nations. Other Americans in the giant slalom are Linda Myers of Bishop, Calif., starting 15th; Nonie Foley of Houghton, Mich., 20th; and Madi Springer - Miller of Stowe, Vt., 25th.

While American women were not expected to win any of the three individual titles at stake this week, Miss Deaver has been ranked among the favorites each time. She finished 19th in the slalom and 24th in the downhill race.

Putzli Hiller of Jackson Hole, Wyo., coach of the U.S. women's team, admitted her disappointment at Miss Deaver's showing in the slalom.

"She really didn't push very hard," Miss Hiller commented. The combined standings, based on performances in the two previous women's events, show Miss Myers 10th and Miss Deaver 12th. Lucille Wheeler of Canada, winner of the slalom, is third behind two Europeans.

Men's competition winds up Sunday with Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., making an all-out effort for victory in his specialty, the downhill race.

Soccer Team To Carry On Despite Crash

MANCHESTER, England (UP)—While this industrial city mourned its soccer heroes killed in Thursday's plane crash in Munich, Germany, the chairman of the Manchester United team promised to "carry on, even if it means we are heavily defeated."

Seven members of Manchester United the New York Yankees of British soccer, were killed in the plane crash and three others were injured.

Only two first team players—goalkeeper Harry Gregg and right back Billy Foulkes—escaped comparatively unharmed. Four other players were seriously hurt but may be able to play again after a few weeks. C. P. Hardman, chairman of the soccer club, announced that the team will carry out its full schedule "as soon as it is humanly possible," because "we have a duty to the public and a duty to football (soccer)."

Hardman said the club's board of directors will meet next week to discuss how to rebuild from the effects of the air disaster.

At Duesseldorf, Germany, a spokesman for the German Football Federation endorsed a Yugoslav suggestion to award Manchester United the honorary European Cup title for 1958. The plane bearing the British team was returning home from Belgrade, where it had eliminated the Yugoslav Red Star club from the cup competition.

SCORING

Wright Takes Over Small School Lead

NEW YORK (UP)—Teddy Wright of South Carolina State, who kept pouring points through the hoop while his chief rivals were idle, took over the national small-college basketball scoring lead Friday to end a four-week reign by Bob Shepard of Clarkson.

Wright, who ripped an average of 32 points per game for 13 games during January, moved to the front with an average of 28.1 points per game for the season, the first time this year he has led the pack and the first time it has been led by a player from any nation except the East.

Wright also leads the nation's scorers on a total points basis with a total of 562 points in 20 games.

Shepard and Joe Gaetano of Quinnipiac, who were idle for two weeks with mid-year examinations while Wright was on his scoring spree, dropped from the first and second spots to second and third with 27.6 and 27.1 averages respectively.

phoned me. I knew there would be a great deal of criticism regarding the boy's transferring," Wilkinson said. "I therefore told the boy's coach that we could not accept Mike unless he could leave Baylor in their good graces and he had a letter from them saying that."

"I am sorry I have been on vacation and haven't been in close connection with the situation."

McClellan, who enrolled here Wednesday, brought a written release from the faculty chairman of the Baylor athletic committee, but apparently Wilkinson did not feel it sufficient covered the situation.

The Sooner coach, plainly irked at allegations by Baylor Coach Sam Boyd that McClellan had been recruited, said, "It's ridiculous to say that we would do so."

"It should be obvious," said Wilkinson, "that we never had recruited from another school before, nor will we ever do so."

Wilkinson said he would talk with Boyd after he returns to Norman this week and would "try to work out something to clear up the situation."

Mary Janssen, Miss McIntire Reach Finals

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Young Barbara McIntire and veteran Mary Paton Janssen shrugged off a drizzling rain Friday to reach the final of the 40th annual Palm Beach women's amateur golf championship.

They will meet for the title in an 18-hole round Saturday.

Miss McIntire, 22, from nearby Lake Park, Fla., produced an easy 4 and 3 semi final victory over Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Janssen, current Virginia state amateur champion from Charlottesville, survived a case of putting jitters to beat Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio, 1-up.

A thunderstorm delayed the start of the semifinals for 20 minutes and a steady drizzle fell on the course through the first eight holes of play.

Both Miss McIntire and Miss Janssen played the front nine in even par 35s and made the turn with 3-up advantages.

OKLAHOMA FIRST ?

Pay-As-You-See TV To Get Boxing Test

NEW YORK (UP)—The International Boxing Club Friday announced agreement with a pay television company for pay-as-you-see telecasting of boxing and other sports "on an experimental basis."

"This means that pay television is getting off the ground," said a spokesman for the company, International Telecaster Corp.—a subsidiary of Paramount Pictures Corp. "We are at last getting programs to offer."

The agreement puts the IBC "in on the ground floor on pay TV," according to Harry IBC, managing director of the IBC.

The announcement of "joint arrangements" between the biggest boxing promotion group in the world and the pay-TV company was made by James D. Norris, president of both the IBC and the Madison Square Garden Corp., and Louis A. Novins, president of Telemeter.

Burt Champion, a spokesman for Telemeter, said that the company is free to begin pay telecasting despite the current dispute over that subject in Washington. He explained that the Telemeter system transmits pictures by cable, rather than by broadcast through the air, and therefore is not subject to regulation by the Federal Communications Commission.

Arnold Smith of Allen University in Columbia, S.C., retained the lead in free throw accuracy. Sinking 17 of 18 during the past two weeks, he now has converted 69 out of 73 for the year for a brilliant .945 average.

Bob Linnenberger of Regis remained tops in field goal accuracy with a .625 shooting mark and Marv Becker of Penn Military stayed in front in rebounding with a 25.7 rebounds per game average.

West Virginia Tech increased its lead in the team scoring race, now showing a per game average of 103.9 points against 93.5 for Texas Southern and 91.3 for Grambling.

However, Stephen F. Austin State took over as the best defense team, having allowed 48 points per game. Chicago University, which had been first, now stands second at 49 points per game.

TWO-SPORT STAR — Jack Kubiszyn, 21-year-old Alabama senior from Buffalo, N. Y., has major league scouts on his trail. Right now Kuby is leading the Crimson Tide basketball team in scoring. He's fine at baseball, too.

Sooner State League Will Not Operate This Season

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (UP)—The Class D Sooner State baseball league folded Friday after half of the eight member teams reported they could not make a financial go of it this year.

Ardmore, Shawnee, Muskogee, Seminole, Ada and Vernon, in Oklahoma and Paris, Tex., said they were unable to se-major league teams, a prime source of income for the clubs. Ponca City also bowed out for financial reasons. The league will make a comeback in 1959. Magota has been handling affairs of the league while president George Barr of Tulsa, is in Florida di-

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

AT MONROE OFFICES

74 Signed With Armed Services

Seventy-four persons enlisted in the Armed Forces through Monroe recruiting offices during January, according to area recruiters. Three young women were included.

Army recruits totaled 29. Those from Ouachita parish included John Wilson, Oscar Dickson, Ben D. Hammons, Raymond J. Nelson, Joyce F. Garman and Everett P. Upshaw, formerly an Air Force man.

Caldwell parish enlistees were Bennie D. Bratton, Joe Ship,

James Crout and Richard Barber, John R. Pillars, Terry Thompson and Troyce Carter. Included from Morehouse parish were Frank Lovejoy, Harold D. Morgan, Billy R. Hall, Jerry Stephenson and Doyle Boykin.

Virgil Greer enlisted from East Carroll parish and Fred A. Harrell and Donald Peters went in from Richland parish.

From West Carroll were Robert Gipson and Harold Lewis. Union parish recruits were James Spencer, Charlie Wheeler and William Woodall. Ralph Delony enlisted from Lincoln parish.

Other Enlistments

Nineteen enlistments in the Navy included Billy Ray Henderson, who reenlisted for six years and was sent to the receiving station at Charleston, S. C. for further assignments.

West Monroe recruits included Ray Dell Gunter, Andrew Delrio, Lee Roy Saucer, Tommy Wayne Gunter, John Prentice Hanson, James Edwin Parker, Henry Clay Nappier, Vernon Lavelle Redmond and Herbert Lee Rucker.

Carey Warren Prewitt enlisted from Monroe; others included William Kenneth Anderson, Quimman; Johnny Howard Curry, Bernice; Joe L. Temple, Delhi;

Alvin Jimmy Shows, Tallulah; Jimmy L. Carr, Columbia; Carl L. Free, Archibald; Jimmy G. Buckalew, Kelly and Bennie Lowery, Calhoun.

Eighteen men went into the Air Force and two young women went into the WAF's. Prior service men included Morris Rea, Bonita; Bobby Pennington, Oak Grove; William King Jr., Bastrop; Walter Eppinette and Walter Goodlow, both of Monroe; Raymond Cockrell, Terry; Thomas Gill, Pioneer and Rollin D. Hallock, West Monroe.

Three aviation cadets included two Monroe youths, Ted Flynn and William C. Brodie, and Laney R. Terry from Delhi.

WAF's, both from West Monroe, were Charlotte Starnes and Kayrene Sauter.

Men without previous service included Billy Mathus, Charles Everett and Henry Holdiness, all of Monroe; Charlie Barr, West Monroe; John Barham, Columbia; Milton Scowers, Dodson and Gwain Scott, Bastrop.

Five men and one woman enlisted in the Marines. They were Leo L. Wilson, Winnsboro; Ray H. Taylor, Tallulah; James P. London, Monroe; Douglas C. Hornous, Delhi and Charles R. Nicols, Collinston. Miss Marva Dell Williams of Bastrop enlisted in the Women Marines.

The annual black - face minstrel of the West Monroe Lions Club will be presented Thursday, Feb. 27.

Harold Hill is to direct the production for the fifth year, according to Hugh Taylor, president of the group.

Rehearsals are to begin Monday night at Crosley School, at which time the end men and chorus are to be chosen.

At its July 2 meeting, the board allotted $100,000 to Civil Defense and $100,000 to the National Guard, both maximum grants for relief to victims of hurricane Audrey; $10,000 to the custodian of notarial records in New Orleans, $25,000 to the Department of Institutions for custodial care at Louisiana correctional institutions, DeQuincy, and $15,000 operating funds to the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation.

However, civil defense returned $50,000 of its emergency grant recently, accounting for the increase in available cash since last December.

Several requests have been dropped, the largest a $50,000 item from James McLemore, state custodian of voting machines, for salaries, contractual services and travel expenses.

Only a few requests have been added since December, the largest a $25,000 grant sought by the State Parks and Recreation Commission for work on Lake Bruin in Tensas Parish.

Among the regular requests still around is one from the Louisiana Historical Society for $10,000. The society has sought the money from the Board of Liquidation almost constantly since 1956 and denied it to the private organization again in the 1957 fiscal session.

Other requests include: $25,000 to begin operations of the Greater Ouachita Port Commission. $90,000 to the State Parks and Recreation Commission to buy land in St. Tammany Parish, for ground work at Abita Springs State Park and for replacing a natural gas distribution line at Chicot State Park. $50,000 for operations of the Morgan City Harbor and Terminal Commission. $68,000 for repairs and operations at Francis T. Nichols State College, Thibodaux. $94,000 for repairs and extension of utilities at Northwestern State College, Natchitoches. $80,000 to purchase land at Louisiana Tech, Ruston. $98,000 for blacktopping a parking lot, air conditioning the biology science building and lighting an outside area at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette. $80,000 for expansion of St. Francisville High School for children of free personnel at Angola state penitentiary. $50,000 to the East Feliciana Parish school board for Jackson schools to provide for children of staff at East Louisiana State Hospital. $25,000 to pay legal fees and other costs of Southern Bell Telephone Co. rate hearings by the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

Few Requests Expected For State Money

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 7 (UP) — Gov. Earl Long will get a happy surprise when he calls the long-awaited meeting of the Board of Liquidation of State Debt, which hasn't handed out cash to needy state agencies since last July.

Barring a last minute flood of requests, there likely will be just about enough money to take care of all pleas for money.

But Long, whose tight-money tactics apparently have chased away all but the most determined, isn't likely to turn spendthrift now. At his news conference Tuesday, the governor said he would call a session of the Board of Liquidation "pretty quick."

But he added he planned to hang on to a large part of the money in case heavy floods developed this spring.

All Rising
After receding for several months, he said the Mississippi, Red, Ouachita and Atchafalaya rivers all were rising. The Mississippi last December was at its highest level since December, 1926, just before the disastrous flood in the spring of 1927.

Last December, the Board of Liquidation's records showed $550,000 in requests and only $750,000 remaining of the million dollars it gets annually to meet fiscal emergencies.

Today there is $800,000 in the kitty and only $750,045 in requests.

However, the governor's office reports a number of requests have been made directly to Long, who is chairman of the board, and are not included in the total compiled by the board staff.

The governor traditionally controls the Board of Liquidation, which is composed of the governor, lieutenant governor, House Speaker, House appropriations chairman, Senate finance chairman, state auditor and state treasurer.

At its July 2 meeting, the board allotted $100,000 to Civil Defense and $100,000 to the National Guard, both maximum grants for relief to victims of hurricane Audrey; $10,000 to the custodian of notarial records in New Orleans, $25,000 to the Department of Institutions for custodial care at Louisiana correctional institutions, DeQuincy, and $15,000 operating funds to the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation.

However, civil defense returned $50,000 of its emergency grant recently, accounting for the increase in available cash since last December.

Several requests have been dropped, the largest a $50,000 item from James McLemore, state custodian of voting machines, for salaries, contractual services and travel expenses.

Only a few requests have been added since December, the largest a $25,000 grant sought by the State Parks and Recreation Commission for work on Lake Bruin in Tensas Parish.

Among the regular requests still around is one from the Louisiana Historical Society for $10,000. The society has sought the money from the Board of Liquidation almost constantly since 1956 and denied it to the private organization again in the 1957 fiscal session.

Other requests include: $25,000 to begin operations of the Greater Ouachita Port Commission. $90,000 to the State Parks and Recreation Commission to buy land in St. Tammany Parish, for ground work at Abita Springs State Park and for replacing a natural gas distribution line at Chicot State Park. $50,000 for operations of the Morgan City Harbor and Terminal Commission. $68,000 for repairs and operations at Francis T. Woman Guilty In Embezzlement
DECATUR, Ga., Feb. 7 (UP) — Gray-haired Mrs. Margaret Burton, apparently semiconscious after a fainting spell, heard an all-male jury convict her today of stealing $186,000 from a prosperous medical clinic.

The jury fixed her punishment at two to five years on two counts of larceny after trust and recommended that she serve both at the same time. Judge Clarence Vaughn said he would follow the jury's wishes when he sentences the 51-year-old divorcee Monday.

Mrs. Burton, who masqueraded here as Mrs. Janet R. Gray, was charged with taking the money during the 31 months she served as business manager of the clinic. She started working there in December, 1954.

CAPITOL HILL ROMANCE—Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND), 78, said yesterday he intends to wed Jean Rodgers, above, "if she wants it."

Burdick, now a patient in Bethesda Naval Hospital recovering from a threat of pneumonia, has been married twice. Miss Rodgers, employed part time in his office, is divorced and has a 4-year-old son. (AP Wirephoto)

No Tax Cut Needed, Says Anderson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said today the current economic situation "does not warrant" a tax cut.

Anderson told the Senate-House Economic Committee that tax changes should be used to stimulate the economy only when "conditions are sufficiently adverse to warrant it," and he said: "It is our judgment that the present condition of the economy does not warrant such action now."

Although he said he would not be surprised by more "bad news" from the economic front before things get better, Anderson said he was not even prepared to discuss the possibility of enacting a standby tax cut bill, to be used if the recession goes beyond a certain specified point.

Avoids Word
Anderson did not use the word "recession" in his prepared statement. He said he looks for a "readjustment" soon and is optimistic for the years ahead as well as for this year.

"Neither inflation nor deflation will be allowed to run a ruinous course," he said.

In other developments: 1. Both the Senate and House Appropriations committees approved an administration request for an additional $3,400,000 for unemployment payments to jobless war veterans and former federal employees out of work. The Senate committee's action represented an unusual speedup, taken after a Labor Department official said the money is "needed immediately."

2. The House Ways and Means Committee wound up five weeks of hearings on general tax revision amid indications it will stand firm against such changes now. It heard an appeal for income tax cuts from the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

The council spokesman, Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus, Ohio, said tax reductions in 1954 helped reverse a recession then and "would have a similar effect on the current recession."

Laylin called for graduated annual reductions in both individual and corporation income taxes.

Few Requests Expected For State Money

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 7 (AP) — Gov. Earl Long will get a happy surprise when he calls the long-awaited meeting of the Board of Liquidation of State Debt, which hasn't handed out cash to needy state agencies since last July.

Barring a last minute flood of requests, there likely will be just about enough money to take care of all pleas for money.

But Long, whose tight-money tactics apparently have chased away all but the most determined, isn't likely to turn spendthrift now.

At his news conference Tuesday, the governor said he would call a session of the Board of Liquidation "pretty quick."

But he added he planned to hang on to a large part of the money in case heavy floods developed this spring.

All Rising

After receding for several months, he said the Mississippi, Red, Ouachita and Atchafalaya rivers all were rising. The Mississippi last December was at its highest level since December, 1926, just before the disastrous flood in the spring of 1927.

Last December, the Board of Liquidation's records showed $850,000 in requests and only $750,000 remaining of the million dollars it gets annually to meet fiscal emergencies.

Today there is $800,000 in the kitty and only $750,004 in requests.

However, the governor's office reports a number of requests have been made directly to Long, who is chairman of the board, and are not included in the total compiled by the board staff.

The governor traditionally controls the Board of Liquidation, which is composed of the governor, lieutenant governor, House Speaker, House appropriations chairman, Senate finance chairman, state auditor and state treasurer.

At its July 2 meeting, the board allotted $100,000 to Civil Defense and $100,000 to the National Guard, both maximum grants for relief to victims of hurricane Audrey; $10,000 to the custodian of notarial records in New Orleans, $25,000 to the Department of Institutions for custodial care at Louisiana correctional institutions, DeQuincy, and $15,000 operating funds to the Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation.

However, civil defense returned $50,000 of its emergency grant recently, accounting for the increase in available cash since last December.

Several requests have been dropped, the largest a $50,000 item from James McLeMORE, state custodian of voting machines, for salaries, contractual services and travel expenses.

Only a few requests have been added since December, the largest a $25,000 grant sought by the State Parks and Recreation Commission for work on Lake Bruin in Tensas Parish.

Among the regular requests still around is one from the Louisiana Historical Society for $10,000. The society has sought the money from the Board of Liquidation almost constantly since Long vetoed its appropriation in 1956 and denied it to the private organization again in the 1957 fiscal session.

Other requests include:

- $25,000 to begin operations of the Greater Ouachita Port Commission.
- $90,000 to the State Parks and Recreation Commission to buy land in St. Tammany Parish, for ground work at Abita Springs State Park and for replacing a natural gas distribution line at Chicot State Park.
- $50,000 for operations of the Morgan City Harbor and Terminal Commission.
- $68,000 for repairs and operations at Francis T. Nicholls State College, Thibodaux.
- $94,000 for repairs and extension of utilities at Northwestern State College, Natchitoches.
- $80,000 to purchase land at Louisiana Tech, Ruston.
- $98,000 for blacktopping a parking lot, air conditioning the biology-l science building and lighting an outside area at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette.
- $80,000 for expansion of St. Francisville High School for children of free personnel at Angola state penitentiary.
- $50,000 to the East Feliciana Parish school board for Jackson schools to provide for children of staff at East Louisiana State Hospital.
- $25,000 to pay legal fees and other costs of Southern Bell Telephone Co. rate hearings by the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

Lions Schedule Minsirel Show

The annual black - face minstrel of the West Monroe Lions Club will be presented Thursday, Feb. 27.

Harold Hill is to direct the production for the fifth year, according to Hugh Taylor, president of the group.

Rehearsals are to begin Monday night at Crosley School, at which time the end men and chorus are to be chosen.

WOMAN GUILTY In Embezzlement
DECATUR, Ga., Feb. 7 (AP) — Gray-haired Mrs. Margaret Burton, apparently semiconscious after a fainting spell, heard an all-male jury convict her today of stealing $186,000 from a prosperous medical clinic.

The jury fixed her punishment at two to five years on two counts of larceny after trust and recommended that she serve both at the same time. Judge Clarence Vaughn said he would follow the jury's wishes when he sentences the 51-year-old divorcee Monday.

Mrs. Burton, who masqueraded here as Mrs. Janet R. Gray, was charged with taking the money during the 31 months she served as business manager of the clinic. She started working there in December, 1954.

No Tax Cut Needed, Says Anderson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said today the current economic situation "does not warrant" a tax cut.

Anderson told the Senate-House Economic Committee that tax changes should be used to stimulate the economy only when "conditions are sufficiently adverse to warrant it," and he said: "It is our judgment that the present condition of the economy does not warrant such action now."

Although he said he would not be surprised by more "bad news" from the economic front before things get better, Anderson said he was not even prepared to discuss the possibility of enacting a standby tax cut bill, to be used if the recession goes beyond a certain specified point.

Avoids Word
Anderson did not use the word "recession" in his prepared statement. He said he looks for a "re-adjustment" soon and is optimistic for the years ahead as well as for this year.

"Neither inflation nor deflation will be allowed to run a ruinous course," he said.

"In other developments:

1. Both the Senate and House Appropriations committees approved an administration request for an additional $3,400,000 for unemployment payments to jobless war veterans and former federal employees out of work. The Senate committee's action represented an unusual speedup, taken after a Labor Department official said the money is "needed immediately."
2. The House Ways and Means Committee wound up five weeks of hearings on general tax revision amid indications it will stand firm against such changes now. It heard an appeal for income tax cuts from the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

The council spokesman, Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus, Ohio, said tax reductions in 1954 helped reverse a recession then and "would have a similar effect on the current recession."

Laylin called for graduated annual reductions in both individual and corporation income taxes.
